Compiling the first 125 years of Kimihia School's existence was an interesting challenge. I never saw it as being a complete record, but gathering together what could be found would be far better than no collection at all.

The reader will discover obvious and glaring gaps in the compilation, which should be thought of as a beginning—a record that can be added to as further data turns up from official and personal collections. The biggest “gap” is the missing records from the World War 2 years of 1943 and 1944, when the records were removed from the school by the Ministry of Education. These “missing” names were later appended to the 1945 register.

In a number of places there are links to further records, such as the school enrolment registers as well as links (in some cases) to the music we may have listened to in the years of our attendance.

My interest in this work stems from having lived in Kimihia from my birth in 1945 up to 1967, as my father Harry was a heavy machine operator in the mine, helping to assemble and then drive the monstrous Euclid 120-B excavator (the assembly instructions were all in Russian). The original single-classroom educated me from 1950 to 1957 before I moved on to Huntly College.

I had the fortune of being able to return and teach the middle-school pupils in 1966 before the school's closure. It was, at that time, a 3-room school (which had two prefabricated rooms added) with fellow-teachers Mick Mather (Headmaster & seniors) and Marion Bogie (Juniors).

I am hoping that this record can be a memory-boost for families from the district, and provide an incentive to have our memories added to.

History of the Kimihia district

Oil on canvas painting of Lake Kimihia by Ella Priscilla Knowles, looking South.

The word Kimihia can be freely translated as "Go and Seek". It is not certain when this picturesque region with its lovely lake was first occupied as the Māoris kept no written record.

Two legends, whether mythical or authentic, would appear to give point to the name Kimihia. One record states that during a tribal foray a Māori chief, who was hard pressed by his enemies, fled into the region and hid in a cave. His pursuers spent much time searching for the cave but did not find it or its temporary occupant.

According to the other legend there is a cave in the district with a large stock of kauri gum stored in it. For this supposed treasure there have been many people who have been willing to "go and seek". One local authority said that people were always looking for it, but to date it has not been discovered.

Māori history would indicate that the area was occupied fairly early after the great migration of the 14th century, principally for the easy fishing in the lake and the plentiful supply of edible birds in the surrounding forests.

It was also a convenient stopping place for Māori voyagers up and down the Waikato River. A spur on the north side of Kimihia Lake was the main lookout over the Waikato River, and there was a redoubt at this point.

The range of hills behind the present farming area formed part of an important Māori track. This connected Whangamarino and Ngāruawāhia with a branch-off to Hoe-O-Tainui. The track continued on from Ngāruawāhia through the King Country and on to Wanganui.

Kimihia, as a Pakeha entity, begins with the missionary settlements at Te Awamutu, Matamata, Taupiri and further north.

The missionaries Ashwell and Morgan passed through the district frequently and often broke their journey at the Māori pa there.

It is rumoured that the mysterious Kelly, possibly the first white man to settle in the Waikato (a "Pakeha-Māori" who meticulously avoided all contact with other early Pakehas for reasons of his own) also left traces of his occupancy at Kimihia.

But white settlement in the district really began with the confiscation of Waikato lands by Governor Sir George Grey in the 1860's.

A soldier discovered coal, and before long the underground miners became the first Pakeha settlers. Operations were carried out until the galleries, which extended out under the lake, were declared unsafe (there was both fires and floods) and the mine was closed down for the time being.

This lake covered about 300 acres with a small island near the southern end. This was a pretty little island with rich soil, unlike the heavy clay of the surrounding country-side. Weeping willows grew in clumps. This island was a popular camping place for the early Māoris as there were plenty of eels, catfish and fresh-water mussels in the waters of the lake. The Māoris came up the Waikato River in their canoes and entered the lake via the outlet to the river.

In the early history of the area there must have been large kauri forests as when the Pakeha arrived both races dug up large quantities of kauri gum by using long spears to find the gum. Kauri gum can still be found in the area.

The first farmers were also miners and, as they arrived in a body, no one can claim to be descended land, tea-tree and gorse that then characterised the district. During the depression of the 1870's and 80's the gum-diggers, who had done so well for themselves in the Te Rapa swamp, probed the Kimihia hills for the precious gum and even spent much time grappling in the lake for it.

Recorded in the New Zealand Appendix to the Journals of the House of Representatives (1898) is a report from the Auckland University College Council showing the endowments of land:

"10,000 acres in the Parish of Taupiri. Of these, 7,516 acres have been offered for lease in five small grazing runs, but none have been disposed of. A very large proportion of these lands is not worth the cost of keeping down briars; it is only the swamps and small portions between the hills which are of any value. 46 acres 32 poles have been leased to the Taupiri Reserve Colliery Company from the 21st January, 1895, to the 21st October, 1899, at a rental at the rate of £100 per annum. The remainder of the reserve has been cut up into twenty-four lots, of about 100 acres each. Of these, twenty-two have been disposed of for the most part at 6d. per acre, but where held by perpetual lease the rent is only 4.8d. per acre. These sections yielded a rental during this year of £46 16s. 2d."

The record goes on to state:

"The total amount of revenue received in 1897, from the 30,000 acres which form the land endowments of the University College, was £156 12s. 6d., and the expenditure in connection with these endowments for the same period was £31 6s. 2d., leaving a net revenue of £125 6s. 3d. It seems but right to note these facts, as it may be generally supposed that an endowment of 30,000 acres would be a great help to the University College, whereas it is of scarcely any value: the fact being that the endowment consisted for the most part of the most worthless land in the Province, and which, at the time it was made an endowment, was unsaleable."

The area of land made available by the College encompassed an area that ran along the southern shores of both Lake Kimihia and Lake Hakanoa.

The first farmers were Holland, Evans, two families of Clinches, Johnson, Patterson and Shearer. Mr Holland Snr had taken up land that he was unable to work until the Māoris had taken their crops out and shifted some burial remains to Huntly.

The old cooking stones of the Māoris remain on the Holland farm just where the hills rise from the old swampy area.

For the Holland family it was a day's work to get to and from Huntly for stores, especially in wet weather. All houses had quantities of home-cured bacon which they lived on. But if they wanted a change of diet they went out and shot quail, pheasant, ducks or rabbits. Pheasants were so plentiful they rose like sparrows and used to come in and feed with the horses.

Shortly after this the flax-millers came in and set up a mill on Holland's farm. The flax was farmed by individual plants being sliced across so that it was possible to cut each area only every second year. Flax was cut in all the swamps and round the lake shores.

Machinery and boilers had to be brought in from Ngaruawahia, 12 miles over the hills and over the bush track with 6-8 horses pulling. Maoris worked the flax, washing the fibre in drains with the fibre being sledged to the station at Kimihia.

The Maoris lived in whares of raupo with an innovative door swivel made from an upturned beer bottle with a stick in it! This flax venture did not last very long, and no trace of it now remains.

Mr G.A. Shaw (quoted in The First 60 Years of Knox Presbyterian Church, Huntly) wrote of the Huntly scene in 1892,

"The hills around were bush clad, though land was being rapidly cleared. Bush was felled in winter and spring and burned

Most buildings were miners' cottages of three to four rooms. New arrivals sometimes lived in Māori whares."

In those early days Kimihia boasted a railway station, a shop and a boarding house (this railway station was situated where Kimihia Road originally intersected with State Highway 1, off Hakanoa Street). One of the houses acted as a post office. Family names listed in the Kimihia Sixty Years booklet are some which are still in Huntly today - names like, McGlynn, Evans, Soppet, Troughear, Clinch, Hall, Skellern, Taylor, Dunn, Patterson, Foote, Johnson, Wilson, Russell, Holland and Valentine.

Most of the land on the east side was obtained from the Māori people in the early 1870's and given or sold to soldiers who had taken part in the land wars.

From this time until the 1900's it was mainly owned by the Ralph and Muir families. Robert Riley Ralph, son of Anthony, the first settler in the district, married Margaret Muir and had a family of 14 children.

Before the turn of the century it became apparent that a local school was necessary to cater for the increased juvenile population, the result of closer settlement.

A petition was presented by some of the local settlers to the Auckland Education Board for such a school.

At the time the children who were old enough to stand the rigors of the daily return journey had to tramp over the old swamp road to Huntly school, which had opened in 1879.

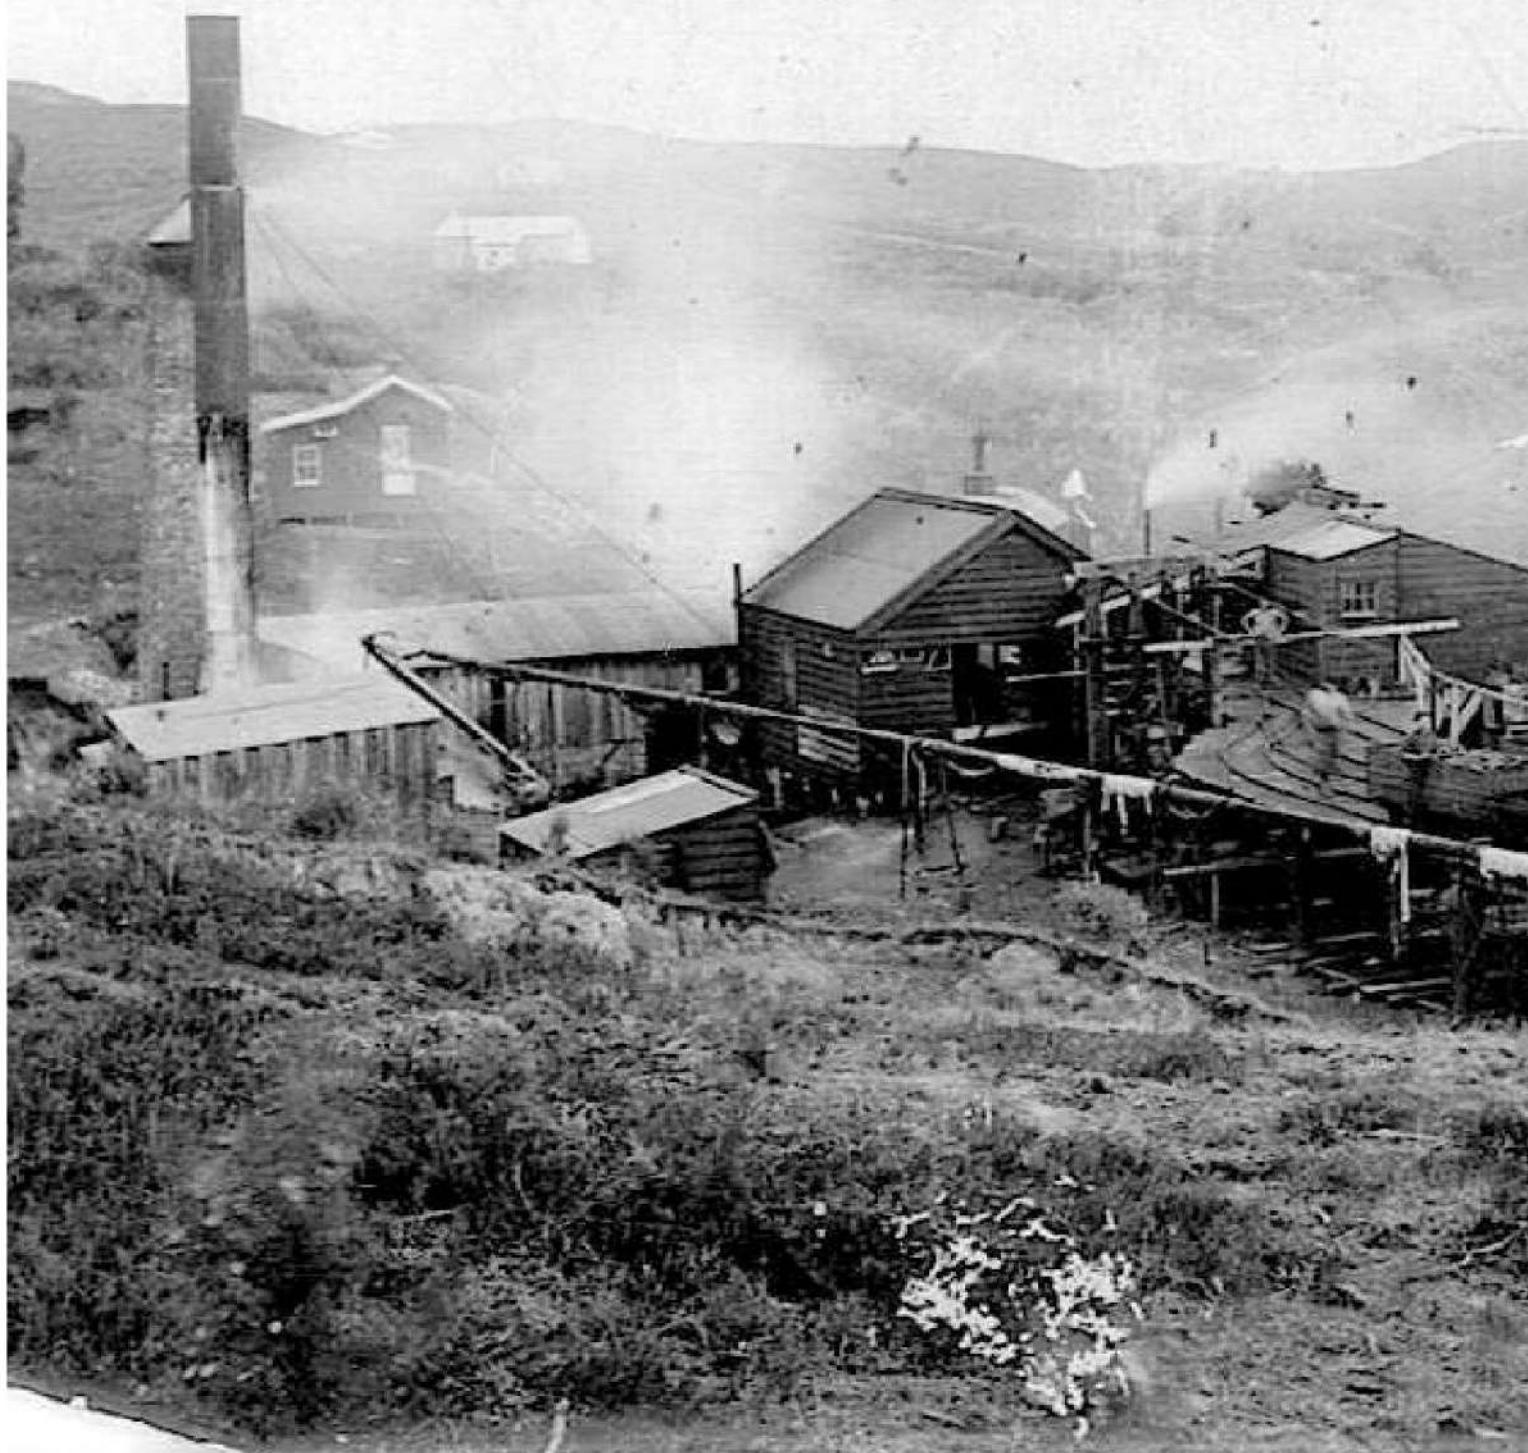

In due course the Education Board agreed to provide a school and a site was selected on part of a University endowment as indicated in the following letter:

Importance of Collection

Left: Mine Workers from the Kimihia Mine in the 1890s, many of whom also worked the land to establish their farms. Their children, if schooling was to be had, needed to take the long journey westward across farming fields and along cattle tracks into Huntly and back each day, This was the main factor in parents applying for a school in their area.

There was at least one farmer, Mr Hall, who worked his shifts in the mine and then trekked over the hills to Ngaruawahia for a weekend of "sociality".

To the Secretary of the Education Board
AUCKLAND

Sir,

I have the honour to inform you that your letter of the 15th inst, was considered at a meeting of the Council held yesterday, and the following resolution was adopted:-

"That the Education Board be requested to communicate with the Commissioner of Crown Lands on the subject of their letter; that they be informed that a site of four (4) acres, more or less, has been reserved at Kimihia, and that the Title is leased in perpetuity on payment of 1/- per annum, if demanded."

I am Sir,
Your Obedient Servant
D. W. RUNCIMAN (Rgr.)

This school hope became a reality as one was built and opened in August 1897.

Original plans of the school were erroneously thrown out by an enthusiastic apprentice who worked (for a short time) at Five Plus One Architects Ltd in Hamilton. This firm is the holder of all Education Department drawings. The apprentice was 'cleaning out' the plan room and saw no reason to keep the 'old drawings' and they ended up in a dumpster. All that appears to remain in the NZ archives are the general tender documents and some water paint sketches.

Schools of similar design and size (7.9m x 5.5m), and built roughly in the same era, were:

Katikati No.1, Maungatautari, Te Puke No.2, Taupo, Otumotai, Taneatua, Hikuwai (Tairua Block), Mamakau and Netherton.

Waitoa school was of similar design but slightly larger (9.1m x 6.1m).

A building of almost the same outward appearance as the Kimihia School stands in the historic village at Mystery Creek, Hamilton (see page 223).

Land Transfers & Acquisitions

Recorded in the Register of Land Deeds in the early years were leases from the University College to aspiring farmers and land owners who obtained their leases for property in the strip of land generally to the south of Lakes Kimihia and Hakanoa. This land was deemed of little worth to the University College.

Suggestions for Chairman of Committee

The site and position of the building thereon will be pointed out by the Chairman of the School Committee or the Architects.

1. Minimum height from ground to floor 2' 0"
2. Buildings ought preferably to be placed on high ground so as to favour good drainage.
3. Sufficient space ought to be left all round the building to allow for future possible additions.
4. The front door need not face the Road.
5. The windows ought to have as much sunlight as possible.
6. The outer door should if possible be in a sheltered position. Under some circumstances therefore it may be found very desirable to place the outer door at either end of the porch, instead of in the middle as shown.
7. To simplify or improve the drainage (and possibly to suit the entrance) it may be found desirable to put the tank and lavatory on the opposite side to that shown on Plan.
8. The closets ought if possible to be placed in a secluded position not less than 1 chain away from the building and not less than 1 chain apart and at the same time so that both the closets can be seen from one of the school windows.

With the arrival of the first teacher, Mr Maurice Priestley in August of that year, the school opened with 13 pupils.

To get to the school Mr Priestley daily walked from Huntly to Lake Hakanoa, rowed across the lake in a Māori canoe and then walked on to the school across Patterson's farm. The paddle he used was donated by him to the school at the 1947 reunion, where he was guest of honour. He was also present at the 50th reunion in 1957. The paddle currently hangs in the foyer of the Kimihia school in Tamihana Avenue, Huntly.

By 1911 there were three settlements in the district, at Huntly Central & West, Kimihia in the east and Pukemiro. The population stood at 1319 people of whom half worked in the mines.

Mrs Janet Rogers can remember her childhood at this time. Her father J.T. Holland came to Huntly from Lancashire around 1890, when he was only twenty one. He married Janet Neil whose family owned a farm later to be better known as Russell's.

Mrs Rogers, who was born in 1898, can remember her mother carrying milk to cottages in their village. They lived at Kimihia where their father worked in the Holland Mine, an extension of the Taupiri Reserve. Nine children were born to the family. "Dad used to ride into Huntly to get the midwife, Mrs Jakeman" - a woman who could neither read nor write and was later taught by her son - "and she would quickly jump up behind."

When she became a young woman, Janet proved a tireless worker for the St John Ambulance. She rode far and wide around Kimihia on her horse recruiting members. Most of the community joined. Her efforts, along with others, resulted in the establishment of the St Johns Ambulance Hall in Hakanoa Street.

Before the Neil's sold out and moved to Tauwhare Mrs Holland would put the younger children in a trolley and push it with a stick all the way along the railway line, to her parents' place. There the children were free to gather fruit from the orchard. Soon their own fruit trees would grow, as Mr Holland, like most of the other miners, worked in the mine during the winter and planted crops in the spring and summer.

When World War 1 broke out Tom Leather was conscripted, which left his father and sisters to carry on looking after the farm. Mrs O'Brien (his daughter) at 14 learned to hay-make until the early hours of the morning and to drive a team of six horses. At night the girls had to collect turnips and cut them up to feed the cows.

"I even learned how to thatch the haystacks and of course we had to milk the cows by hand."

The Perry Cottage, on the lake front, was used for a variety of social events, including this Sunday gathering.

To this scene came early in the century, like so many others a young man named Robert Jenkins. He and his brother-in-law visited New Zealand with all their worldly goods in an old tin trunk. After a brief return to England where he married, Albert returned and came to live in Huntly. At first he and his wife lived at the back of their fruit shop, later to become the premises of the Huntly Press. They later moved to Kimihia. Between 1910 and 1923 five children were born to them.

An old farmhouse was being used in the 1880's -1890's as a store-room and had a large passage with forms. It was used as a Church by the Church of England and was supposed to have seen the first services held in the Huntly district. Later it was used by the occupants as a Sunday School with Mrs Harrison, the occupant, conducting the classes. Mr and Mrs Harrison's son, Charles, later became curate of Huntly.

Mrs Harrison was said to have objected to the toilet facilities at the house and insisted on a trellis and tea-tree as screens. One mission crowd appeared to outstay their welcome so boys started some buck-jumping shows outside the windows. One boy threw a cat through the window and onto the mission lady's back!

After this, when the school was built, Sunday School was held in the new Kimihia School.

The Sunday School teacher who succeeded Mrs Harrison was victimised by the boys who put her horse on one side of the fence and the gig on the other and hitched them up.

"In the Primer classes too much time is devoted to Arithmetic and too little to Handiwork. Schemes are not complete. The school is conducted with earnestness but considerable thought must be devoted to raising the general level of the work. In Nature Drawing too little seems to be taken, and a sufficiently high level is not reached.

In Reading something more than fluency must be aimed at; due attention must be given to expression. In Composition, the work is of a somewhat haphazard nature; the pupils should not be expected to write on any subject unless, and until, they have the details clearly before them.

The presence of an Assistant should materially raise the level of the work. Discipline is good as is manners and behaviour. The premises are very clean and neat."

*Jas W McIlraith, Litt.D. - Inspector
March 22nd, 1915*

"Class grouping are quite satisfactory. The pupils are making satisfactory progress in the majority of the subjects taught. Reading needs careful teaching to improve the phrasing and expression."

"The school has been carefully managed and organized, and the pupils making very promising progress. Order, discipline and tone were good." N T Lambourne, 27 March 1924

In February of 1924 a District High School was opened in Huntly as a part of the Huntly Primary School. In the following year there were 427 primary pupils and 35 secondary pupils (which included a number from Kimihia).

Prior to the local secondary school opening (initially in 1918, then closing in 1919) pupils from the Kimihia area, who qualified to attend Secondary School, needed to walk from their home in the east for about an hour to the Huntly Railway Station to catch the 7:15am train to Hamilton (a rail journey reportedly of two hours) arriving at 9:15am. About three hours each way took a large bite out of the pupils' day.

In September 1953 Huntly College opened, which relieved the stress on Huntly Primary. The Kimihia pupils then needed to manage the extra walking/biking distance across the Waikato River railway bridge for their secondary schooling.

"Composition needs a good deal of blackboard work in sentence structure." Thos F Warren, 26 Oct 1928

When the Kimihia School held its Diamond Jubilee in 1957 Mr Priestly was there to take the roll call of first-day pupils. It must have been a rarity for a school to have its first teacher return after 60 years.

He was remembered as strict but generous. When news came through about the relief of Mafeking and of Ladysmith he gave children money to go to the Kimihia shop to buy sweets so that they could celebrate.

Writing of his first impressions on coming to the new school opened at Kimihia in 1897, Mr Maurice Priestley said

"It was, I think, on August 24th, 1897, that I wended my way over the tea-tree covered track to open a new school at Kimihia. Leaving Te Aroha where I taught previously, I had time during the rail journey, to visualise my new charge, and anticipate a school full of Māori children.

"Accommodation was unprocurable at Kimihia, as houses were small and families large, so I had to live in Huntly and travel to and from on foot. Later I rode a bicycle, carrying it when it did not carry me. The road was more picturesque than smooth.

"The pupils do not read enough . . . vocabulary range is limited."

CA Cumming, 11 October 1929

"The building had just been completed, and cost - believe it or not—£198. Fifty years later when I visited it there was little sign of decay.

"I was delighted on arrival to find some 16-20 bright little faces - none of them Māori - all eagerly appraising the new teacher. Some looked pleased, some doubtful. I can visualise all the faces, but cannot remember all the names. Some that occur to me are the Troughers (4), all reliable; Evans (4), faithful honest workers; Dunns (6), all brainy and trustworthy; Johnsons (2), bright and vivacious; Russell's (2), quiet retiring and sound; Holland, Tom bubbling over with life; Maggy Wilson, a godsend to any school; Taylors (4), bright alert and dependable; P. Patterson, always to be depended upon; McGlynn (2), cheerful and industrious; Soppets (2), loveable children and clever; and others which the years have dimmed..

"In after years I had the privilege of meeting many of my old pupils in various parts of the province, and I hope they enjoyed meeting me as much as I enjoyed meeting them.

"It is gratifying to think that some outstanding citizens have graduated from the old school, and still more pleasing to think that not one ex-pupil has let the school down.

"I will ever remember the kindly consideration shown to me by the parents and committee members when, as a young and inexperienced teacher I was feeling my way.

"To my old pupils I can only say that sixty years of experience has taught that unless a teacher can arouse love in his pupils he will get nowhere."

Pupils in attendance on that opening day August 24th 1897 were: Katie McGlynn, Florence Evans, Madge Soppet, Georgina Trouher, Edward Clinch, Archie Campbell Hall, Hilda Ruth Skellern, Ada Evans, Bertie Taylor, Ernest Hall, Samuel Dunn, Ethel Evans and Pearl Patterson. Frederick Dunn enrolled the following day, on August 25th.

The daughter of one of these pupils, Ernie Hall, was to act as official hostess to Her Majesty the Queen at the Hamilton Hotel during the Queen's visit in 1953. She was then Mrs Prosser.

Bert Clinch, later to become the All New Zealand .303 Shooting Champion, shot the knob off the school gable at 500 yards. He was Champion in live bird, shotgun and rifle. He could toss up a penny and shoot it with a pea-rifle. He served in the Boer War and in the 1914-18 World War.

Maud Perry remembers her father Richard being Chairman of the School Committee, and doing the job of the committee alone, doing everything that the non-existent group should be doing for the school, including the regular emptying of the school toilet. Maud swept and scrubbed the school for the fee of six guineas a year.

Up until 1952 the school regularly used the swimming 'hole' at the edge of the lake below the school by some large gum trees. The students shared their swimming lessons with the aquatic life of the lake - ducks, eels, raupo, frogs and tadpoles. The 1952 expansion of the mine caused the area to become dry land and swimming lessons were few and far between at the Huntly swimming baths.

Miss Brown served at the school from 1902 until 1918, a period of 16 years with Mr O'Brien staying for 12. Every year for a short period of time the school picnic was held in Perry's paddock (see photo above).

During the days when the school children used the old track (no road connected to the school for nearly 50 years) and iron gate to the school.

Bill Valentine Snr kept a Holstein bull pegged down by the nose in the paddock that the children crossed. Mrs McIntosh was well remembered for her fear of bulls. One day the bull got loose and jumped the fence right by the children, so young Dick Yates jumped in front of the bull to stop it. Mrs McIntosh reached out with her umbrella and hooked him out of the path of the charging bull.

Curiously Mrs McIntosh seems best remembered for her umbrella which she always carried, and for her skill in finding four-leaf clovers. She also walked every day from Huntly to the school.

Maud Perry recalls that her father Richard was Chairman of the School Committee and, through necessity, was a one-man band, carry out all the duties of the Committee on his own. He 'carried' the school for quite some time.

Maud was called upon to assist in sweeping the school while her father had to empty the toilets for six guineas a year.

She also remembers the parties in the Perry home on the lake frontage that were followed by dances at the school. The copper was kept boiling all day to supply cups of tea while bath-fulls of sandwiches were made. This type of communal activity ceased when Mrs Anne Perry moved out of the district. On that occasion she was presented with a clock.

Part of the southern shoreline of Lake Kimihia showing hilltop opencast mining in progress. The buildings on the foreshore are the kitchens and dining rooms built for the opencast expansion that had started further eastward. The Kimihia school is just out of shot to the right.

The Perry house was to be used for a number of years as the office of Downer & Company, which had been contracted to work the mine from 1945.

Mrs Rogers recalls her older brother Tom Holland—"He wasn't even five when he started school. It was such a long way to walk to school that sometimes he didn't get there until lunch-time."

Thirty years after starting as first teacher at Kimihia School, Mr Priestley became an inspector who was sent to inspect the schools to the west of the Waikato River in Huntly. He persuaded the other inspector to exchange schools for the occasion so he could inspect his own school. Mrs McIntosh was the teacher at the time.

It is reported that he greeted Mrs McIntosh, looked around the room at the pupils, and said "I know that one. That one is Tom's."

The child concerned was Tom Holland, son of Tom Holland Snr. Mr Priestley pinned young Tom Holland down for an hour on his visit, asking him about the old residents while the others played. Then he gave them all an extra hour of play-time while he ate his own lunch. Tom was hurt that the other kids got that extra hour! Mr Priestley was to make a further inspectorial visit in Mr O'Brien's time.

During the early 1930s the school teacher Mike O'Brien rode his motorbike daily from Huntly, sporting a leather helmet and a curly pipe. It is said that his bike had only one speed. He married a Huntly dressmaker.

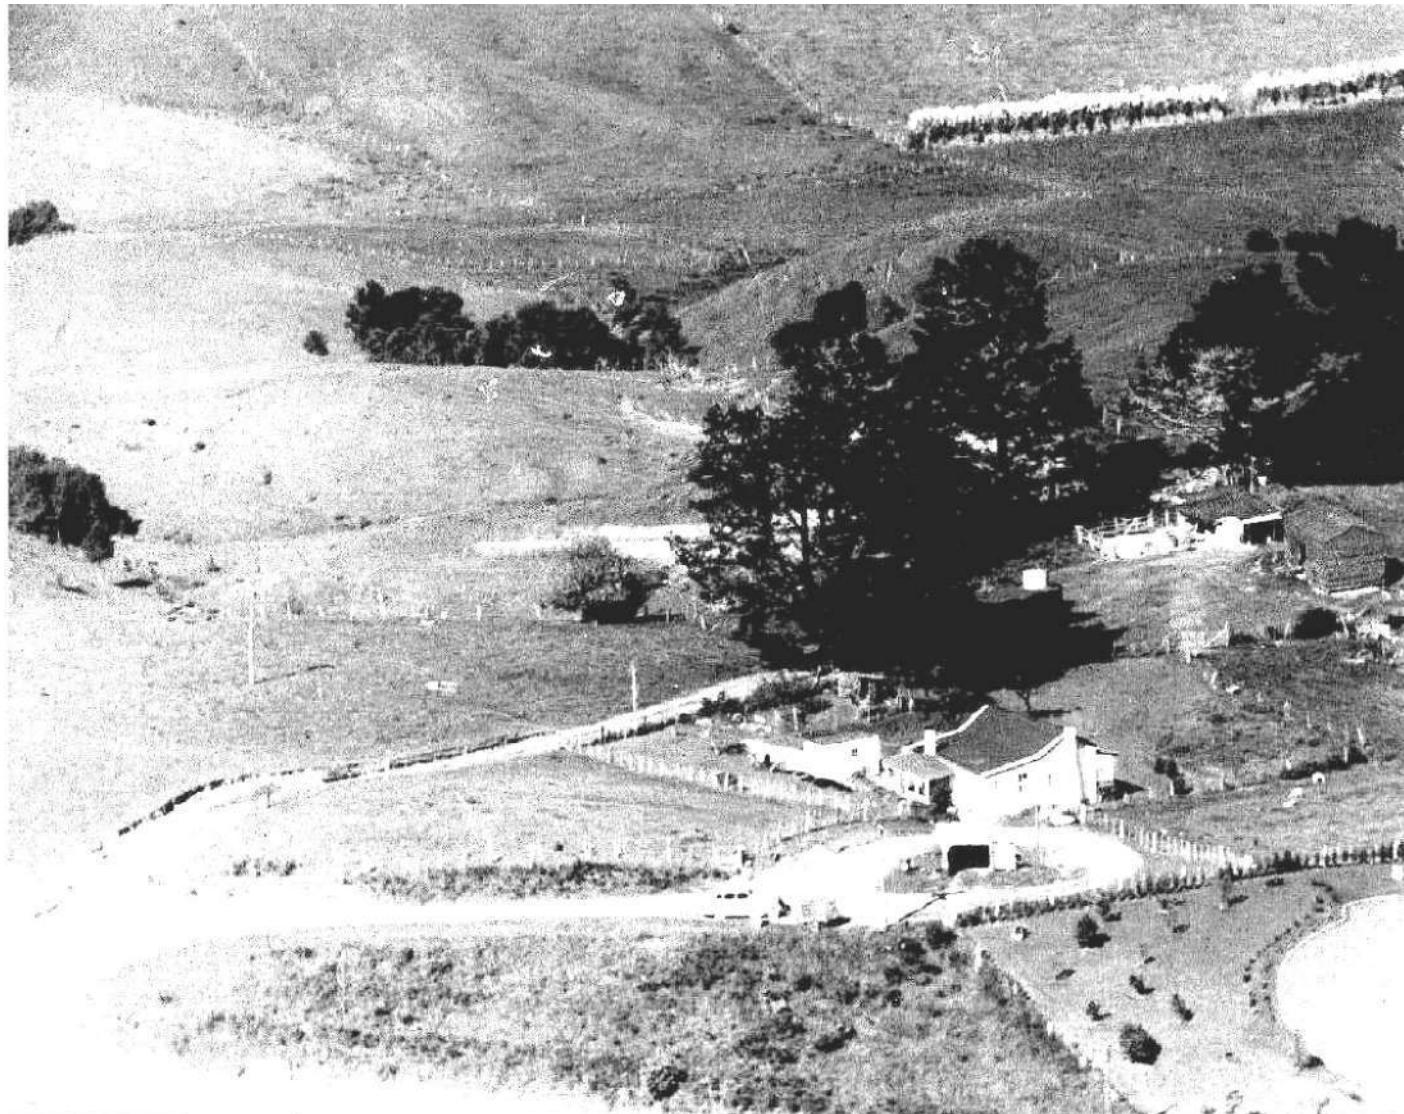

At this time two handwriting entries were sent by the school to the Taranaki Provincial Show to join other entries from Waikato and Taranaki. The two Kimihia entries scored first and second place, with Andrew Kenny coming first and Joe Slee coming second.

At one stage Mr O'Brien arrived at school at 10:45am following the previous night's attendance at the first Catholic Ball, to find the children heading home again. He shepherded them back to school where, it is reported, they had a very easy day!

Because the teacher(s) had to walk from Huntly each morning it was not unusual for the pupils to wait until nine o'clock and then head back home if the teacher was late.

In one such incident the boys took off to meet Dave Holland who was returning from a successful duck-shooting venture. He told the boys he had a live duck in the bag and proved it by poking his head in the sack, gently thrashed about a bit and secretly blew his duck call!

Up until this time, when a Manual training centre was opened at the Huntly school, the children walked to Huntly and caught the Taneatua express to Ngaruawahia once a fortnight and caught it back at night. They left the Kimihia school at 10am and were landed back at the Huntly station at 4pm and still had to walk home. One year three girls rode one bike to and from Huntly to catch the train.

Mrs Ivy Farmer (nee Kilburn) recorded in the Huntly Press (16 June 1987) some of her thoughts of the early days of the school:

"I remember Gleghorn's house with the verandah (in Russell Road) where Mr Gleghorn used to sit so contentedly smoking his pipe with a lovely view of the then gem of a lake, Kimihia Lake, with a small island.

"Kimihia folk used to love to go to 'The Point' for picnics and a swim in the lake. There were huge eels and bewhiskered catfish in the lake, and many wild ducks and swans, and beautiful long-legged bitterns - a bird we do not seem to hear of these days. We children loved to walk on the lake edge to Kimihia School to see them in the raupo bushes at the edge of the lake.

"There are more happy memories of my Kimihia school days. We children loved elderly, prim, strict and energetic teacher Miss Brown and she encouraged any of us who liked gardening to have a wee plot of our own. I look back and think, oh dear, they must have looked like a row of graves along the wire fence line of our playground.

"But Miss Brown could get no one to gather horse manure for the wee gardens. No one would oblige, except me, Ivy Kilburn, because I used to collect it for my Dad's garden. So off I went, armed with shovel and kerosene tin with handle, got through the wire fence and into the ti-tree bushes where I knew Copestake's draught horses did the biggest heaps! Two shovels full and the tin was full.

"Dear Miss Brown was delighted and used to give me two pence (tuppence) a tin. What a lot of money, two big pennies in a small girl's hand, after being poor in England where farthings and halfpence were used."

Arbor Days at the school were remembered as a highlight of the school year when the Chairman spent the day with the pupils in the local bush. The girls, conducted by the teacher, always returned to school by 1pm, but the boys invariably became lost until 3pm!

An annual event was the cross-country paper chase. This was another great opportunity for the boys to lose themselves in the bush until 3pm. The clearest memory of one of the smallest boys of the time was the statement "If you say you heard the bell, you'll get a hiding!".

The depression years presented problems to school-children wishing to make gifts for the teacher. One group overcame this by presenting their teacher with a live rooster, ready plucked. They were "warmly" thanked.

During these early times one of the Waugh brothers, who had incurred the ire of the teacher, was sent outside to get a stick and he returned with one three inches long! Sent for a bigger one he came back with one ten inches long. He was then sent for the biggest one he could find and was gone for an hour. His return was heralded by a bump, bump, bump up the path and through the porch. He arrived with a strainer post!

1937 Headmaster's Report - M J O'Brien

Arithmetic. In general, good progress is being made in the subject in all classes. Mechanical work in some instances is very good but not so good in lower classes where plenty of practice is being given and improvement is being made. Primer 4 have experienced difficulty in number competency but are now improving.

English. The general English so written and spoken has improved. Speech, both inside and in the playground, has shown improvement.

Reading. In general the reading is good. Definite instruction in the use of stops, phrasing has been taken. Phrases for ? marked in journals. Enumeration is more distinct but fast reading tends in some cases to indistinctness. Impediments are noted in cases of Primer 4 children. Generally improving.

Drawing. In general good. Both in pastel scene drawing and in pencil.

Composition. Many models have been taken from BB (blackboard?). Generally improving though content lacking somewhat due to lack of good reading material to widen scope generally. Paragraphing and sentence structure are greatly improving.

Writing. Generally neat, but form is not yet although strong efforts have been made to show improvement.

Garden and Calf Club Work. Keen interest and excellent success has marked this section of school activities. The children display keen interest in this work. Hard work has been correlated to some extent with it meeting with marked success.

Hobbies. Stamp collecting by various members of club formed. Some good collections have been made.

General. An excellent spirit is shown in all activities of the school.

1938 Headmaster's Report - M J O'Brien

Arithmetic. In general, good progress is being made in all classes in arithmetic. Mechanical work and general setting out has made good improvement in the upper classes. In S1 steady progress has been hampered in all subjects by poor attendance in the classes due to epidemic of measles, colds and sores amongst the Māori children.

English. The general English, both spoken and written, is making steady improvement generally. Speech training exercises being given particular attention to endeavour to develop better oral expression.

Reading. Generally the reading is showing good improvement. Model in expression has been given to assist in modulation of voice and general expression. Sounds in the upper P. classes have been well mastered. Attention being given to phonograms. An improvement in St 1 girls is noted which appears to be the cause of backward reading in this case.

Drawing. Very good progress has been made in both pastel and pencil work.

Composition. In general the composition is improving. Plenty of Models have been taken in St1 and the oral comparison is improving generally.

Writing. Generally nice but form needs more general care. BB copies taken daily and improvement is being shown.

Science & S Study. Very good progress is being made.

Gardening & Calf Club Work. Excellent work is being maintained in this branch of school activities. Excellent work being attained in handwork correlated with calf club work. Keen interest throughout the district being shown.

Hobbies. Some good collections of stamps have been made.

General. An excellent spirit is maintained in all school activities.

1939 Headmaster's Report - M J O'Brien

In general good work is being done throughout the school in all school activities where attendance has been satisfactory. Seasonal illnesses and sore amongst Māori pupils have militated against steady progress of children of the lower sections.

Arithmetic. In general the setting out and neatness has improved while mechanical work in lower classes has received due attention and steady improvement is being maintained.

English. In general the oral expression and written work has gradually improved. An effort has been made to improve the oral speech through speech training exercises and choral reading of selected poems.

Reading. Steady improvement is being made by all classes, the reading is being correlated with Geography and History lessons where children reproduce subject matter orally of subject matter read. In lower classes sounds have been given due attention. Poor communication is noted in some cases, in one instance due to speech impediment.

Drawing. Very good progress in pastel and pencil work is being maintained in all classes.

Composition. In this section more importance has been given to letter writing, through models, in essay work, have been taken regularly. General improvements being shown.

Science & Nature Study. Very good work is being maintained.

Club Work. Garden & Calf Sections. Excellent interest is being maintained in this branch of school activities. Excellent hand-work as correlated with this work has been obtained.

Hobbies. Encouragement is given in hobbies, the main one being stamp collecting.

General. The children are keen in most branches of school life.

"(The pupils) are interested, industrious and happy, and are making sound progress within their varying capacities. Attainment varies from fair to excellent. Stronger aspects are individual singing, club work, garden and oral freedom. Accommodation is adequate but buildings are badly in need of painting and there is no urinal for the boys. Sewing is taken by Mrs Holland."

1940 Headmaster's Report - M J O'Brien

A very good standard has been reached in most subjects throughout the various divisions of the school. In general attendance has been good with the exception of one Māori pupil who is subject to seasonal skin diseases which mitigates her steady progress.

Arithmetic. The setting out and neatness have greatly improved in the upper classes while due attention has been given to mechanical work in the lower classes where improvement is being made.

English. General speech has improved throughout all class work. Good work has been done in speech training and Choral Reading. The general written expression is showing improvement, more importance being stressed on formal expression through letter writing.

Reading. Steady improvement has been made throughout all classes. Some cases in P. classes showing distinct improvement. One case of a Māori pupil is noted where teacher can obtain no response in oral work but pupil is showing remarkable improvements in written work under the circumstances.

Drawing. Throughout the standards in good work in pastel and pencil is being maintained while P. classes do very good work with chalk.

Composition. Models have been taken and children give their own expression and accounts of incidents but most stress has been laid on practical letter writing where good results have been attained.

Access to the school was achieved via farm tracks and "over the fields" travel until 1946 when the underground coal mine became an open cast venture and the mine was connected to Kimihia Road.

The new access was named Tawa Road, and was primarily used by coal-delivery trucks, mine service vehicles, rural mail delivery and milk delivery vans to the newly constructed mining village. The few village families who had cars were able to take trips to Huntly for supplies.

Note the lack of easy access to the school. The road past the school was constructed in 1946 when opencast work began on the mine and vehicle access was essential.

Science & Nature Study. Excellent work has been done in this section, pupils' work being exhibited with distinction at the Hamilton Show.

Club Work. Calf, Lamb & Garden Sections. Excellent work is being done by the pupils in these sections. A very successful July School Day was held and interest is still well maintained by parents. Tone and discipline work very good to excellent.

General. The children take a keen interest in all school activities.

"This school is very well conducted on liberal lines. Good courses of work are being successfully undertaken. Buildings, recently painted, are in very good order. Some holes in the asphalt are in urgent need of attention. They are dangerous and render the area unsuitable for effective drill purposes."

1941 Headmaster's Report - M J O'Brien

The children of this school are all very keen on all school activities. The average attainment averages greatly throughout the various classes but all are working to maximise capacity.

Though various epidemic illnesses have been prevalent throughout the year, attendance has on the whole been satisfactory.

Arithmetic. On the whole this subject is satisfactory. The Māori pupils are making marked progress though experiencing difficulty in the mastering of mechanical work. The setting out and general neatness has attained a very fair standard.

English. The written English is very good while oral reproduction is gradually strengthening. The oral expressions (need) definite speech training and Choral Reading work is improving the general standard in the lower division.

Reading. In most classes a fair standard has been maintained where there has been no impediment. The lower divisions are showing distinct progress in reading and Sound work.

Drawing. In general very good progress in this subject is maintained. The lower divisions work particularly well in BB (blackboard) drawing.

Composition. This subject has been treated as a practice subject for every day use in the form of Letter Writing. Both in business and personal. letter writing marked improvement has been made.

Science & Nature Study. Excellent progress is being maintained in the upper classes in this subject.

Club Work - Garden, Calf, Lamb & Handcraft. Excellent interest and marked success have been attained by the pupils in all club activities. Work done by the pupils was excellently rewarded by the winning of the Points Shield for Lower Waikato Schools Competition.

In general the children have carried out a very successful year's work, all working to capacity and displaying a keen interest in the school activities.

"This school continues to fluctuate considerably from the point of view of numbers (11). The teaching is well directed, patient and sympathetic. The drill and assembly area has been extended and top-dressed and is now in good order. It now should permanently be marked out for drill purposes."

1942 Headmaster's Report - M J O'Brien

Many factors have tended, throughout the year, to implode steady progress of the pupils. For a period of seven weeks the school was closed one day each week while the teacher reported for medical treatment ordered by the Army. The school was closed during July-August for a period of four weeks while teacher was in the Military Camp.

During the last term all pupils with the exemption of four were absent for a period of two weeks with measles. Other seasonal sicknesses affected the general attendance.

Arithmetic. Satisfactory progress is being made in this subject with the exception that Māori children are still experiencing difficulty with mechanical work. The setting out and general neatness has attained a very fair standard.

English. Throughout the written English is good. The oral work is gradually improving though some pupils are not as distinct speakers. Impediments are noticed in some cases. Daily speech training and Choral Reading training are having a beneficial effect on speech.

Reading. In most classes a very fair standard has been maintained. The lower division have made good progress in reading, sounds and word recognition.

Drawing. In general very good progress is being made. The lower division also very good on BB (blackboard).

Composition. The subject has been treated as a practical subject in the form of Letter writing. Back in Business and Personal letter writing very good results have been attained.

Club Work—Garden, Calf, Lamb & Handcraft sections. Excellent interest has been maintained throughout all club activities.

General: The children have worked to full capacity and display a keen interest in all school activities.

1943 Headmaster's Report - M J O'Brien

The children of this school are keen and display a deep interest in all school activities. They show a good disposition towards school life and always appear to be happy and contented, conducting themselves in a pleasing manner.

Owing to the mixed nature of the school the general attainment is not of a very high standard, in the case of the Māori children. But all pupils have worked to maximum capability. Attendance in some cases has mitigated against steady progress.

Arithmetic. Throughout the standard classes setting out and general neatness is good. Mechanical work has recurred due attention and is improving, the Māori children experiencing most difficulty. In the upper primers very good progress has been made.

English. The written English is very good and a distinct improvement in grammar is noted, while the oral work is gradually improving through speech training and the enacting of suitable easy plays in the lower Standards and Primers.

Reading. The reading throughout varies from very good in some instances to some cases in which great difficulty in mastery is evident. In Primers some are excellent while others display difficulty in word recognition though having a good grounding in sound work. To combat this consistent sound and word matching work has been taken.

Drawing. In Standards the work in pastel is very good. In Primers the standard is very good in BB drawing and picture illustration.

Composition. Picture stories and expressions are fairly good. Most time in upper classes has been devoted to practical work in past school life in the matter of correct letter forming.

Garden Club. Keen interest is still maintained in club activities but it is regretted that a Field Day could not be held this year. The gardens are well cared for and produced a good display of vegetables in connection with the District(?) Daffodil Competition.

Handwork. Excellent work produced by the children for funds for the Junior Red Cross of which most are members.

General: A good year's work has been accomplished.

1944 Headteacher's Report - Mrs Robinson

Although the examination results of the annual exams are on a whole lower than those of the mid-year the work has improved considerably.

A change of teachers was made from the 3rd of July and this had naturally affected the children's work. During the latter half of the year the children have worked to the utmost capacity, many doing homework in their eagerness to make progress.

The work of this school is yet only very fair, but with as much progress next year the standard should attain good at last.

This year the roll number has increased from 18 to 32 pupils. During the second term whooping cough affected nearly all attendances but this last term's attendance has been excellent.

Arithmetic. The subject needs much improvement yet as the majority of the pupils are far below the standard for the class in which they are placed. For this reason most are placed on trial ready for 1945.

Mental work is very low and children appear to have had no experience in individual thinking until recently. Work in Primer and Std 1 is of a good standard while that of the others Standards has shown an improvement within the last few months.

Aerial photo of Kimihia Lake taken on April 18th, 1941

Kimihia School

English. Formal English is very good in most classes except Std 3. Speech work is improving steadily with plenty of practice. Children are noticed to correct speech deficits in other pupils. Dramatic work has played an important part and children are now in preparation for a concert.

Reading. In upper classes reading is on a whole weak. In the Primers and lower Standards there has been a definite improvement with sound drills daily, and next year the whole school should attain a very good standard.

Drawing. Very pleasing work is done by all the pupils. Primers in their illustrative ink display excellent imagination.

Composition. Much oral work is being done to improve this subject. Punctuation has been weak but with constant attention this difficulty should be soon overcome. Letter writing has improved from fair to very fair.

Club Work. Children displayed a keen interest in Calf Club this year, which was well attended by parents and local residents. Unfortunately there were no gardens for judging purposes as they had been destroyed by cattle forcing their way through the fence. Flower gardens were started and next year we hope the school environment will be improved considerably.

Handwork. Children have made good progress with work for Red Cross purposes. Bead brooches and various novelties have been made for sale. Knitted garments have been forwarded for Refugee purposes.

General. Children display a good school spirit and have worked steadily. Parents interests have been stimulated by choral work of pupils and many display as much eagerness as the children, and making their school careers a success.

“This school is being conducted on sound lines by a capable young teacher whose enthusiasm for her work deserves to meet with success. The newly stained floor improves the neat appearance of the main room but certain repair and maintenance work require attention. I suggest that an effort be made to clear some of the blackberry, to make the fence cattle-proof and to mend the broken windows. The children would benefit greatly if the school had a good library and all-weather paths to the outhouses.”

1945 Headteacher's Report - Miss I A Gunn

The standard of work is very weak. Written work is below standard. Graphic expression and handwork are almost rudimentary.

Reading. FII—Std 1. Oral work poor, lip-laziness being the worst fault. Comprehension varies from Very Good to Weak.

English. Formal work is Good to Very Weak. Oral words are spoilt by speech and grammatical defects.

Spelling. F1-2 V.Good. S4-S1 Very Poor. Much Word Building has been given.

Composition. S1-3 Written work has improved. S4-FII still have no idea of paragraphing. Except in one case Sentence Structure has improved.

Social Studies. The children display great interest, but are definitely handicapped by the lack of books of reference.

Club Work. Nine calves and three lambs were displayed on Club Day which was attended by many parents. The animals showed that care and attention had been given them. The calf-judging competition gave good results.

Drawing. Poor standard throughout, but now that paint, pastels and paper are available the work should improve.

Handwork. Very poor—detail scampey. Lack of materials and instruments a factor.

Arithmetic. F2 girl is bright but her mechanical work is weak and some aspects of the work set for the year are only just now being completed. F1 is very weak with only one promotion being made. S4 very fair. S3 only one promotion has been made, two girls being kept back for at least a term in order to complete assignment of work. S2 setting out and figuring poor. S1 three promotions have been made - figuring poor. Primers - three promotions have been made.

General. Although the children are mentally lazy, the standard of work should improve as more material becomes available for their use. Improvement in the setting out of all written work must be the first consideration for 1946.

Oral work should improve and much time must be given

1946 Headteacher's Report - Miss A E Davis

Arithmetic is weak and slow. I have given plenty of mechanical work to try and improve it, but they find it difficult to apply it to problems.

Reading. Comprehension very fair but oral work and speech are weak. Also formal work very weak. Have introduced "Country Library".

English. Work good to fair; formal work very weak. Composition only fair at sentences work but very weak at paragraphing.

Spelling. Is very weak and trying to improve it with Schonell spelling lists and instructions, Schonell in sentences - individual from memory.

Drawing. This subject, on the whole, is very fair to good.

General. Children are lazy, have got into bad habits and (are) indifferent; but with continual attention should improve. General orders or "good enough" air in school district.

"The attendance on the day of inspection was seriously affected by sickness among the pupils (16 of 31 present). The teacher is doing her best under very disheartening teaching conditions. The building is unlined, poorly equipped with teaching aids and the grounds provide no facilities for outdoor activities. The impression gained is one of lack of interest on the part of all concerned. It is pleasing to note that reasonable access by road is now an accomplished fact."

K.I. Robertson, 3 May 1946

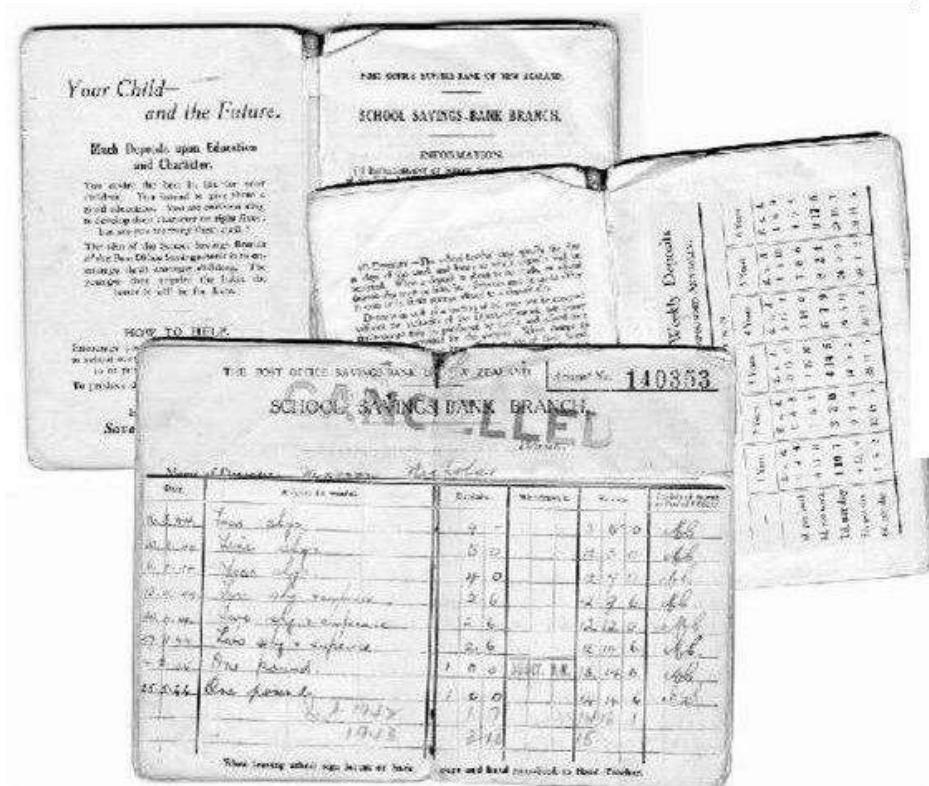

A 1941 aerial photograph of the Perry farmstead on the southern shores of Lake Kimihia. The house and the fields around were used as a social gathering place for the community. The building later was converted to become the mining headquarters for Downer & Company as they accessed the coal beneath the lake. The railway line swings past the house on its way to the pitheads further to the west.

The following note was appended to the margin of the 1945 Register of Admission & Withdrawal:

"Note: No's 695-727 are numbers of complete school re-admitted. Previous Admissions Register removed from school during May 1945. All other records of admission, i.e. rolls and progress records from 1943 also removed. Mrs Robinson, Head Teacher, 21st May 1945."

The record referred to was that of 1938-1945. Up to this time it has not been found amongst the NZ Archives.

All pupils were encouraged to bank regularly, and provisions were made by the Post Office Savings Bank for the students to do this on a weekly basis.

Money and slips were collected, placed with the pass-book into envelopes provided and 'posted' in the POSB box in the schoolroom. It was later taken to the Post Office Savings Bank and deposited.

GOLDEN JUBILEE

KIMIHIA SCHOOL

CELEBRATIONS

FUNCTIONS LAST SATURDAY

The 50th jubilee celebrations of the Kimihia School were held last Saturday and proved very successful and enjoyable. There was a large gathering of old pupils from various parts of the Dominion, and nearly half of the first-year pupils answered the roll call.

Among the gathering were four past teachers of the school, Mr M. Priestley, of Auckland, the first teacher, now a member of the Auckland Education Board, Miss I. M. Brown, of Onehunga, Auckland (retired), a teacher at the school for 16 years several years ago, Mrs Alec McIntosh, of Huntly (retired), who taught there for several years, and Mr M. J. O'Brien, of Auckland, a recent teacher of the school. The present teacher of the school, Miss A. E. Davies, was also present.

Apologies for absence were received from several old pupils, and one was received from Mr A. S. Sutherland, M.P. for Hauraki. Eight members of the Dunn family, all old pupils, were present at the celebrations.

Mr Alf Holland, of Kimihia, an old pupil, acted as chairman for the celebrations in the absence of his brother Mr John Holland, also an old pupil, who had to enter hospital just prior to the celebrations. He is now out of hospital.

The celebrations opened at 1:30 p.m. with a reunion, when those present were afforded a great opportunity of renewing old acquaintances. Mr Holland welcomed the visitors.

The honour of ringing the school bell was given to Mr Samuel Dunn, of Pukemiro, the oldest pupil present, after which the roll was called by Mr Priestley, who then addressed the gathering. Mr J. McGlynn replied on behalf of the old pupils. The Mayor of Huntly, Mr G. Smith, who had resided at Kimihia many years ago, spoke of the early days of the district.

Mrs Florence Cole (nee Evans), of Auckland, the oldest ex-pupil among the women present, was presented with a shoulder spray by the youngest pupil at the school, Alys Birch, of Kimihia. Mrs Priestley, the Mayoress, Mrs G. Smith, and Mrs J. T. Holland, the oldest resident of the district, were presented with shoulder sprays by Mrs R. Wilson, of Huntly West, an old pupil. On behalf of the old pupils, Mrs F. Cole presented Mr Priestley with a white silk scarf.

The old pupils were then assembled to be photographed, after which the gathering adjourned to a large marquee in the school grounds, where a delightful afternoon tea was provided, and the large number of children present were also supplied with soft drinks, ice cream and apples. The long tables were beautifully decorated with gold flowers.

Mr Holland called upon the Mayor, Mr G. Smith, to propose the first toast, "The King." Mr Charles Dunn, of Wellington, an old pupil, replied to the toast, "Past Teachers."

During the afternoon, Miss L. M. Brown presented a handsome barometer to the school, and addressed the gathering. Several of the old pupils contributed £7 towards a clock for the school. Mr Holland suitably returned thanks.

Owing to rain a programme of children's races had to be abandoned.

In the evening a largely attended dance was held, when a very happy time was spent. Music was supplied by Mrs J. Luke, an old pupil, and Mr Joe Fulton. Numerous extras were contributed. Songs were given by Mrs R. Perry, of Huntly, Mr J. Phillips, of Taupiri; card tricks by Mr W. C. Davies, of Huntly; a recitation by Mrs E. W. Ruston, of Te Aroha, a former well-known Huntly resident, who had lived for several years at Kimihia; guitar items, Mr J. Phillips, junr., of Taupiri; mouth organ and piano-accordion duets, Messrs W. Davidson and W. Valentine. Mr Mat Russell, an old pupil, acted as M.C. during the evening. A delicious savoury supper was served in the marquee during the evening.

All were agreed that the golden jubilee celebrations had been a memorable one.

In the 50 years, 759 pupils have passed through the school. Among the old pupils present were:—

Mesdames F. Cole, B. Sullivan, H. Windsor, B. Fleming, H. Ward, F. Kay, R. Wilson, W. Valentine, M. Club, B. Ruston, W. C. Davies, Rodgers, King, J. Dooley, Dooley, J. Rogers, J. Luke, A. Pretty, Boswell, Miss N. Perry, Messrs T. Holland, F. Dunn, J. Dunn, T. Dunn, C. Dunn, W. Ruston, M. Russell, H. Jones, J. Johnson, H. Perry, J. Ralph, T. Ralph, W. Coby, J. McGlynn, A. Paterson, Seddon.

1948 Headteacher's Report - Miss A E Davis Interim Report

F.II Work very fair. English only fair - not dull but very slow in grasping and action. I think he will make S.C. by end of year. Behaviour very good.

F.I Work Polly and John weak: Hihi is fair. I think he will make the standard by the end of the year. Behaviour: Polly and Hihi good; John fair, lazy and bad tempered resenting correction. Not very obedient.

S.4 Work generally weak all through. Shirley interested in nature study is a good worker and well behaved. Jack very lazy and indifferent to everything: too lazy to be naughty.

S.3 Work fair to good. Leslie weak in English. Ronald and William generally weak. Valerie very fair and Marjorie good. Marjorie needs tactful treatment, very shy and nervous, a good worker and though a bit slow at picking up, is solid once she gets it. Behaviour good except Ronald, who is a troublesome child lacking concentration.

S.2 Work good. Jimmy very good in English but finding it hard to grip Number. Jeanette and William good all round. Myra only fair. Behaviour exceptional. Myra is very good.

S.1 Work: Sarah, Whare, Tui are good. Joyce and David Fair. Behaviour good.

Primers Not a very bright lot, Mary and Stancy are slow, cannot hear words from phonic sounds. Alec is fair but lazy. Les is very intelligent. Richard is rather a problem.

General Work of school generally is only fair. Children are eager; but eagerness is, in most cases, damped by indifference in the home.

Mr Little takes a keen interest in his children and does all he can to help, which is a big help to the teacher. He takes a keen interest in the school. Mr J.Holland also takes a keen interest in anything for the children (calf-club, etc).

When I took over, Sept. 1946 work was very weak. I worked and worked the children hardly during 1947. The roll went from 32 to 38 and back again. The long spell at Christmas 1947 put them back again, though I took each family for half a day each week. Queenie and the Aranuis did no work. Hihi, Simmons, Polly, Jimmy and Jones did very little work. Littles did very well and got through all their work.

The appearance of the grounds will give an idea of the Committee's interest. 1946-48 Committee showed very little interest in school. 1948 Committee has made a better show of interest since they have been in office. They have dug two loads of sand into the garden; have provided two new mats, a new broom, oil, turps, etc.

1948 Headteacher's Report W Parsonage - Final Report

F.2

Work very fair. Attitude very good. Primary School Certificate granted.

Arithmetic: Considerable improvement made.

Formal Language: Very fair. Most taught work well grasped.

Written Expression: Approximately very fair. Sentence structure good but seems to lack imagination.

Spelling: Fair. Words well known daily but not remembered.

Social Studies: Very little taken until 3rd term. Keen interest shown.

Reading: Very Fair—good. Silent Reader with good comprehension of matter read.

Writing: Greatly improved.

F.1

John - very fair. Polly - generally weak.

Arithmetic: John fair but improving. Polly has little idea of even the fundamental tables.

English: John very fair approaching good in written expression. Polly weak.

Reading: John very fair to good. Polly fair to very fair.

Spelling: Approximately very fair. Considerable improvement was shown

Writing: This was weak but progress has been made and the standard of writing and general setting out has been raised.

Social Studies: As in F2 very little had been taken until 3rd Term. John very keen. Polly keen but will improve as subject matter is explained.

S1-S4

The work in most cases was only fair. Writing and setting out was untidy and careless. Oral response was weak. Towards the end of the year the children were trying hard with the result that in all cases a large measure of improvement was shown, particularly with regard to writing and oral response. The children are now able to conduct their own debates and oral response is good. Writing and setting out is very fair to good.

Reading: Oral Reading is fair. Silent Reading is good. For the most part the children are interested in reading, and class readers and Country Library books are in great demand. Comprehension very fair.

English: Varies from Very Good to Weak. General estimate Fair. Spoken English is Weak.

Spelling: Apart from three who are weak Spelling is generally Very Fair.

Written Expression: Although a great deal of attention has been given to this subject it still remains weak throughout the school. Plenty of sentence structure will be continued.

Social Studies: Very little taken until 3rd Term. The work taken was appreciated and good results were obtained.

Writing: Greatly improved without exception.

Arithmetic: Varies considerably from V Good to Weak. Std 2, with one exception, is good and Std 3, 4 and 5 are making progress.

Speech Work: (No comment recorded)

General: The children are keen worker and are making progress. Main consideration for 1949 must be [a] Plenty of sentence structure, [b] Further attention to writing and setting out, and [c] Plenty of tables drill, particularly in the lower classes.

Six calves were reared and displayed at the Group Show in Huntly. It is hoped to resume the local Calf Club activities in

“There are some weaknesses which will require strong determined teaching to eradicate - writing (which is untidy) and oral response (which is diffident). The school building, itself large and in good condition, stands forlorn in unattractive surroundings. Seen on a wet day the grounds are almost a quagmire with muddy water streaming down from the upper playground, across the asphalt assembly area to the school doorway.”

Headteacher's July Report 1949

Wm Parsonage 14.7.49

Written Expression The general weakness noted in this subject in the final survey of 1948 has not been overcome in spite of my efforts. In most cases there has been some improvement but further determined teaching is needed. F2 Fair to Good. Mihi and John improved.

F1 Very Fair+ Both have shown improvements.

S4 Fair to Very Fair. Much work needed here

S3 Fair to Very Fair. Myra good. Others need concentrated teaching.

S1&2 Very Fair to Good. S1 showing improvement. S2 fairly sound.

Formal Language As in Written Expression there is a decided weakness here, particularly among the Maori children, most of whom have very little idea of even the rudiments of grammar.

F2 apart from Polly, good.

F1 approximately Very Fair.

S4 Fair to Very Fair. This class is weak on this subject and concentrated teaching is needed to reach a pass standard.

S3 Very Fair to Good. Queenie Fair. Remainder appear to make good progress.

S1&2 Very Fair. Determined teaching is required in Std.1

Social Studies S3-F2 Good. Very pleasing progress has been made. Children have displayed a great deal of interest.

Reading F1-F2 approaching Good. Most of the children are keen readers and have a good grasp of matter read.

Polly - Fair.

S3-S4 Very Fair. S3 better than S4 who are not keen readers. Oral reading has shown improvement but there is still a tendency to read too quickly.

S1-S2 Very pleasing progress made with these classes. Mary has not progressed as rapidly as the others and her comprehension is not up to the Standard.

Spelling In most cases survey results were something of a disappointment. Children are not yet 'spelling conscious' - introduce dictionaries for mistakes and a graph for daily number of errors in an endeavour to stimulate "spelling Conscience".

Writing Here very pleasing progress has been made and what was last year a decided weakness in all classes has become a pleasing feature of the work in the school. General estimate G-VG.

Arithmetic F2 Half-year survey results most disappointing due mainly to careless mistakes and not to ignorance of methods. However, progress has been slow and hard work in this subject must be a feature of the second half of the year.

S3-F1 Mainly good with such exceptions as Jimmie and William Wilson who have no idea of number. Progress has been good.

S2 Good to Very Good. A successful half-year's work.

S1 Good progress made - approaching Very Good.

Speech Work No formal work taken. Verse speaking and discussions, and all oral work have been used. To advantage in attaining correct speech.

Infants Lack of interest at home is biggest bugbear. Books always being lost. Reading seldom preferred. Reading is Fair. Number work Very Fair. Oral work is Weak. Some children are unwilling to speak. This must be concentrated on during the second half of the year.

Verse Speaking Children keen. Popular type of songs has greater appeal and these have been given a preference to school songs.

Handwork Very little has been taken due to a shortage of materials. Boys do papier-mache work - girls sewing with Mrs Parsonage.

Art New scheme of art work has proved most popular and good results have been obtained.

General The children are keen on their work and in all good progress has been made with the exceptions mentioned. The children are friendly and appear to be happy. New sports gear has been obtained and though the playground is against sports activities some results have been achieved.

A new tank and handbasin have been fitted, the hedges have been cut, but the grounds are in a bad state. I have improvements in mind but the Committee is unable to find labour. Floor stain and timber for shelves have been ordered. A fair supply of library and reference books is in hand, but I am reluctant to release them until shelves are procured for them.

Consideration for Remainder of Year

1. Determined teaching in all English subjects including Written Expression in all classes.
2. Development of a "spelling conscience".
3. Speeding up for F2 Arithmetic.
4. Further concentration on oral work in all classes, particularly infants.
5. Plenty of Table Drill and Mechanical Arithmetic in Std 3 and all classes.

"The environment of the school leaves much to be desired but it is understood that plans are underway for long-overdue ground improvements. The buildings too are badly in need of painting. The new boys lavatory is a great improvement. The interest of the school committee is evident . . . in its efforts to obtain electric power for the school."

K H O'Halloran, 8 August 1949

Headteacher's Final Report 1949

Formal Language G. Rudiments seem to have been mastered.

Reading Sight reading Ned and Stancy G. Mary F. Comprehension - Neil and Stancy V.G. Mary V.F. Neil and Stancy are keen readers with a good vocabulary. Mary needs plenty of oral reading.

Arithmetic G.-V.G. Good progress made.

Very pleasing work in general.

Primers Tangiwi promoted to Std 1.

Primer 2 Leo, Wayne, Dick Brand - Satisfactory progress made. Dick inclined to be slower than the others. Leo has missed considerable time through illness.

Primer 1 Arnold, Tai, Ian. Ian has made good progress. Arnold is slow and difficult to handle. Tai, who is deaf and could not speak when he started school, is speaking much better now and is able to read.

General

Speech Work Little formal work taken. Common errors have been dealt with and good progress made.

Verse Speaking Children keen - speech training assisted.

Singing Far from satisfactory.

Handwork Good progress made and satisfactory results achieved in the second half of the year.

Art Satisfactory progress made.

General

The year's work was most satisfactory, particularly in the latter half of the year, and the results on the final survey bore out this progress. The children have a pleasant attitude to their work and control and discipline offer little trouble. Further playground improvements are planned. Calf and Sweet Pea Club are not so popular as they might have been but hope to remedy.

Form 2

English (Including Written Expression) Jack Good, Polly Fair. Polly has not the fundamentals of grammar. Social Studies Jack Good, Polly Fair. Jack interested. Polly interested but doesn't retain knowledge. Reading Jack is a good all-round reader. Library reading, comprehension and _____ all good. Reads copiously and thoroughly. Polly reads well from sight but doesn't comprehend matter read. More interested in comics than books.

Spelling Polly very good. Jack very fair, greatly improved. Polly can spell words but is unable to use them. Jack has a good spoken vocabulary, but word forms trouble him reading. However he is showing improvement.

Writing Both are very fair to good. Fluent but no style. Arithmetic Jack is Very Fair. Polly is Very Fair—Fair. Jack grasps work after much demonstration and appears to hold it. Polly is weaker than exam results indicate. Fundamentals forgotten easily.

Nature Study V.F. to V.G.. Both keen, but Jack retains his knowledge.

Form 1

English (including Written Expression) Very Fair to Weak. Not a strong class in English subjects. Les and William have little idea. Les is improving. Valerie is improving considerably.

Social Studies F. to V.F+. Disappointing result in survey, particularly Les. Good progress made.

Reading F. to V.F. Not a good reading class. Leo and William read very little. Valerie reads slowly but thoroughly. Have tried to encourage Library Reading with the class but have not made with much success.

Spelling Weak. Possibly this class will never be able to spell well. Valerie is improving but Les and William cannot spell even the simplest of words. Do not retain word forms.

Writing Fair to Good. Valerie a fluent writer with good style . William only fair but improving. Les Very Fair.

Arithmetic Weak to Excellent. Les and Valerie both sound in fundamentals and have carried on well. William has no number sense at all.

Nature Study Very Fair to Good. All three find this subject interesting and appear able to return the knowledge gained from observations.

Std 4

English (including Written Expression) Weak to Very Good. Median Very Fair. A big range in this group in all subjects. William and Myra, while very good at Formal Language, share the common fault in this school of a weakness in written expression. However progress is being made. Sonny and Jimmy have not a good grasp of English although expression work is improving.

Social Studies Fair to Very Good. Median Very Fair. Keen and interested in Social Studies. Myra retains her knowledge well. Good progress has been made and interest aroused.

Reading Very Fair to Good. Median VF+. A good reading class. Silent Reading and Comprehension good. Use Reference Library freely for Social Studies and Nature Study. Sight Reading good although inclined to be too fast.

Spelling Good to Very Good. A good spelling class with words well grasped. Jimmie and Sonny cannot use words as well as Myra and William but are improving.

Arithmetic Weak to Very Good+. Median Very Fair. Jimmie and Sonny need much more practice in fundamentals. Myra and William are sound. Good progress has been made during the year.

Nature Study V.F to V.G. Medium G. Work tackled keenly and interest shown.

Std 3

English (including Written Expression) V.F. Has shown a marked improvement during the year and will probably reach good before Final.

Reading V.F+. Oral reading improving. A good silent reader.

Spelling V.F. Showing considerable improvement.

Writing G. General work tidy and making improvement. Transition to ink successful.

Arithmetic G. Improving. A good half-year's work.

Social Studies F. Doesn't display a great deal of interest, but improving.

Nature Study V.F. Interested and keen.

Std 2

English & Written Expression Formal Language showed a marked improvement but written expression remained V.F. Greater emphasis needed on sentence structure.

Arithmetic G. A good number class. Need Tables practice. V.G. to Ex.

Reading V.F. Improving. Should reach Good by Final.

Spelling V.F. to V.G. Apart from Mary the spelling is very good. Mary tries hard and will improve by the end of the year.

Writing V.F. to V.G. Showing improvement.

Std 1

An age promotion to Std 1. Tangi is weak. Fortunately English subjects and Writing. Art work very Fair.

Spelling V.F.

Reading F. Written Expression and Formal Language Weak.

General The standard of work is showing a gradual improvement in most cases and the children's application to their work is pleasant. Speech work though not taken formally is improving with correction. Spoken Language is not good and the coal(?) response could still be replaced.

Consideration for remainder of the year

- * Further emphasis on sentence structure and written expression.
- * Concentrating on oral response through class discussions and project work too.
- * Tidiness of written work.

I have made efforts to have the school painted and the playground levelled but have met with no communication written from the Board or the Committee. The building is in a bad state through lack of paint and the grounds speak for themselves. I shall make further attempts to have those jobs done during the second half of the year.

22.07.49

Headteacher's Final Report for 1950

Wm Parsonage 19th Dec.

Written Expression Still remains a weakness, but in most cases has shown improvement. Most common faults are poor sentence structure and the setting out of ideas on a logical sequence. Varied from F. to G.

Formal Language Good progress made in most cases, particularly in the lower classes, but still only fair in the senior classes who lack the fundamentals. However 1951 should see improvement. F. to V.F.

Social Studies Considerable individual variations according to interest. The work on the whole proved interesting and the children were keen. Project work in F1 and F2 was most successful but interest was not maintained in Stds 3 & 4 showing results V.F. to G.

Reading Oral Reading has shown a decided improvement by dint of continual practice of phonics and speech but there is still much to be done. The children are keen readers and Library Reading was good. Silent reading for content varied from W. to V.G.

Spelling Apart from F1 where there is a decided weakness the spelling was generally good. Std 2 an _____ showed great improvement, apart from F.1. which is G. to V.G.. F1 Weak.

Writing In this subject the greatest improvement was shown. In the last two years writing, written work and general setting out have improved beyond all measure. It is pleasing to notice such progress. V.F to V.G.

Arithmetic A good standard achieved in all classes. Tables work was concentrated on and although some improvement was shown, further emphasis on Tables still need to be required in 1951. The Model Arithmetic Book has methodical setting out of each new type of sum encountered proved most successful. V.F. to G.

Nature Study Although the gardens were not successful, the children showed a great interest in Nature Study. An attempt was made to make the work as interesting as possible by farming live specimens in class, rearing insects, and so on, and these methods proved their value.

Club Work There has been a falling off of interest in Calf Club activities due mainly to the fact that only half of the children come from farms. The parents of most of the children are mere ex-players. Only three calves were reared and these were exhibited in the Group Field Day, earning two seconds. Sweet Peas are more popular with 15 children growing them. May attempt to _____ garden projects in 1951.

Speech Training Little formal work taken. Common faults lip laziness and lack of expression were pointed out and corrected by Verse Speaking.

Primers Wayne promoted to Std 1. Dick not making much progress due to low attendance.

General A good year's work in most cases. Primary School Certificate awarded to Jack Davidson. The new Committee displayed a little more interest than in the past and after five years of discussion I have at last succeeded in having the playground levelled off by a bulldozer, a high-banking hedge replaced by a new fence and the promise of a new planting of grass for March 1951. I have not yet succeeded in having the school given a badly-needed coat of paint, both inside and out.

Final School Survey 1951
A D Bartlett 19/12/51

Written Expression This subject throughout all classes remains a weakness. The Maori children suffer from a language handicap which is very hard to overcome. Even the remaining children suffer from (a) a low literary and cultural standard at home, (b) lack of opportunity for out-of-school experiences, [c] spare-time reading at home..

The children in 1952 will be given a foundation in formal language using errors in written work as a basis. The three points listed above to be remedied where possible by (a) encouraging children to read, and rear wisely, (b) visits to another school (O hinewai).

The Māori children in Std 3 (1952) to be given plenty of sentence work using cards.

Formal Language Fundamentals unknown. A modified programme to be used at the beginning of the year to revise those _____, give the children more confidence. Work of an oral nature where possible. Integrate closely with work in Written Expression.

Reading Oral reading shows a fairly wide standard varying from F. to G.. Comprehension is, on the whole, weak. To remedy this a carefully graded scheme of work shall be applied next year. For _____ and scheme. In the past Primer Reading (foundation work) seems to be a weakness and therefore in the reading programme a very large portion of my time should be devoted to the Primers. As apparatus is made ready to hand the work in this department shall be made easier.

Spelling The standard attained is satisfactory and with combined work along the same lines should reach a high standard. A weakness not shown by exam is the ability of some of the children to spell a word but not be able to use it in sentences. Exercises using spelling words to be developed next year.

Writing The standard varies greatly from V.G. to W. A much higher standard of bookwork to be demanded and maintained next year. When the children are trying a definite improvement is shown.

Arithmetic Mechanical work is good but application to problems is poor. Problem work to be correlated with reading. Setting out of work is only fair. Std 3 will need work in tables and in the 4 rules. Frequent absences retards their work.

Social Studies Lack of continuity in work due to having a different teacher each term had a detrimental effect. Children are interested and work well on their charts. A higher standard shall be easily obtained next year.

Nature Study Three calves entered on Calf Club Day. A programme of soil improvement to be carried out next year as the soil is 'sick'. Garden plots (home) to be encouraged next year and an outside supervisor (Mr R Withers) has agreed to demonstrate and supervise the work. The addition of an N.S. (Nature Study) table and aquarium will prove valuable.

Speech Training Children are "lips lazy" but programme of work (scheme) should make improvement.

Primers The children have been attending very irregularly due to sickness. This has made the work in this department very disappointing. This creates a problem, viz: promotion. Some of the children being promoted to Std 1 will have to have a P.4 course of work for several months to consolidate their infant work. Unless promoted they become "old men and women" throughout the school, which leads to high leaving ages and, in some cases, "no need" to go to H.S.

General

With pleasure I noticed an improvement in the school grounds. The Committee regressed half the grounds. An area of asphalt was tar-sealed. I succeeded in getting them to meet and they have agreed to put the remaining area in grass in March and also to have a lawn area made at the entrance to the school.

When the school is painted (on priority) a wonderful difference to the school grounds shall be apparent. A hedge is to be planted down the road boundary. The Committee are still endeavoring to get electricity in the school and then a radio will be obtained.

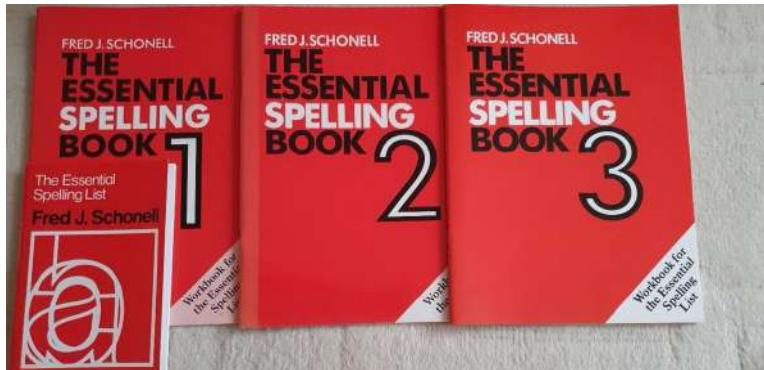

With the continued interest and backing of their parents progress is assured, giving the children a pride in their school, their environment and in their work.

Looking Back a Year or Two

The schoolroom was unlined in any way but very secure against the weather and the wind. Displays were fixed to the walls by drawing pins, until sellotape became available.

The Education Department supplied funds to the school for cleaning purposes, so, instead of employing a daily cleaner, students were rostered to sweep and clean after school each day. The money 'saved' went to buying end-of-year gifts for departing students and other school necessities.

A regular activity for some of the senior students at the end of the school year was the scraping of the desks. Broken shards of window glass were recovered from underneath the school and used to scrape off the top layer of varnish from the desks so that a fresh coat could be applied. Surprisingly few cuts were experienced.

Before the days of fountain pens and ball-points, ink monitors were appointed every term. It was their job to top up the inkwells in the senior desks each day from a large supply bottle that had a thin neck and a pronounced lip like a squeezed milk jug. The dip pens had to be used carefully.

The morning fingernail parade was only looked forward to by those who had not played outside before school began each morning. On instructions from the teacher all pupils would place their hands on the desk, palm down, so that the cleanliness of the fingernails could be inspected. A telling off and a quick trip to the sink with a small pair of scissors was the result of any dirt being discovered.

Boys who incurred the ire of the teacher were strapped in the porch area while the rest of the school listened in silence, if such strapping occurred during class. There was one occasion where all the senior boys were lined up for strapping for failing to hear the bell and were late arriving to class from playing in their grass hut 100 yards away at the edge of the playing field!

Walking to school across the playground in the morning ran the risk of having one's legs covered in the sticky paspalum seed-heads when the grass hadn't been mown. Those with hairy legs suffered the ordeal of pulling off the tenacious attachments before they dried and made the job too painful.

Until it was discontinued a daily ration of half-pint milk was compulsorily available each morning interval. The milk was delivered in glass bottles and the crate left in the milk shelter just inside the school gate. Straws were supplied and the milk taken (under supervision). In winter the milk was delightfully cold, and often converted to hot cocoa. In summer the milk was tepid and most unappetising.

Senior boys had the job each day in winter of firing up and tending the pot-belly stove that stood in the room. Coal was supplied by the mine and there were often competitions to see which pair of "duty boiler-makers" could send the cherry-red glow of the fired-up stove the highest up the bare chimney. The milk for the cocoa was heated on the stove in a large billy.

Times tables and the alphabet were learned by chanting under direction of the teacher or senior pupil.

The juniors had a part-time activity as shelter-shed climbers during intervals where they wedged themselves into the corners of the shelter-shed and stepped their way up the lapped boards until they could touch the roof. The distance down to the earth floor seemed to get less every year!

A number of improvements were made to the school by the School Committee between 1947 and 1957: School grounds levelled - Asphalt playing area combined with tennis court - Grassing of grounds (previously blackberry & ti-tree) - Electricity connected to the school - School lined and ceiling installed - Cupboards built, school painted - Town water supply connected & septic tank installed.

School Survey A D Bartlett 28/7/52

Written Expression This subject still remains a weakness. Points [b] and [c] Final Survey 1951 have been followed up by [a] visiting Ohinewai School, [b] Inter-School sports and [c] searching for information of Local Survey. Much of the written work for the year has been based on this survey. The Māori children in S.3 have difficulty in recognizing a sentence. They need plenty of practice in writing of simple sentences. This shall be given.

Formal Language Slow but sure progress is being made. Much oral work is being taken. The errors in written expression to be noted for future correction. Schonell's schedule of common errors in Oral Composition p.428-9 will be used. Punctuation - following method

- [1] Read through the passage with exaggerated inflexion.
- [2] Children put in punctuation marks.
- [3] Read another passage in natural voice.
- [4] Children to write passage in own words.
- [5] Children to read orally revisit punctuation marks.

This may form the habit of re-reading compositions, thereby discovering other omissions.

Reading Still a wide standard. Most of the senior pupils, with one exception, are reading and utilizing the Country Library Service books to the fullest extent. The S.1 children are progressing favourably considering that they had not finished J. & J. on promotion. Frequent absence by some Primer children has made continuity impossible. Those regular attenders have made good progress, are keen and a pleasure to teach. More apparatus still needed for variety of occupations.

Spelling A very good standard in all classes and continued progress is answered. Further attention to meanings and usage to be continued. Oral and written sentences.

Schonell's Basic List finished with F.2 so work shall take the form of revision and extension.

Arithmetic Results were disappointing but with further work a big improvement should be shown. Mechanical work is no difficulty to most. To improve setting out a model of each new type of sum to be given. The Tables in S.1 will need attention to improve speed. Daily work in Tables to be given. Problems still a difficulty with some children.

Social Studies The work as planned for the year was interrupted by a "Local Survey". This was correlated with Written Expression. The survey has been posted on and we are now receiving surveys from other schools. Individual projects shall be given to each child now that they have some idea how to tackle a problem.

Nature Study Calf Club has ended due to few children in a position to enter calves. Am fostering Home Garden Project to take its place. More flower beds to improve surroundings and a model plot to be next from now on. Propagation of seeds and plants to be carried out during the remainder of the year.

Primers Some children have made excellent progress. Betty is attending more regularly and is gaining confidence. Jean's and Christine's reading is very good. Glenis is retarded by sickness but has made good progress. Tui had a long absence from school and with frequent minor absences has meant the loss of months of work. The two youngest Maori boys are just developing a "Reading Readiness" and should soon be on their reading books.

General The grounds continue to show an improvement. The remaining area was grassed, a lawn area was rotary-hoed, a new shed built, power installed, a new fence is in the process of installation, blackberry was cleared and sprayed, a radio has been donated by a parent, hedge trees are on order.

In the coming half-year I would like to obtain a film-strip machine, a set of encyclopaedias, trestle tables for book displays, handwork, etc. The tenders for painting the school were considered too high. Fresh tenders to be called.

Annual Survey A D Bartlett 15/12/52

Written Expression This subject shows an improvement although it is still a weakness amongst the Māori children. Picture English, a series by Glover, to be used next year to develop the ability in these children to write simple sentences clearly and concisely.

Formal Language Fundamentals are not an unknown factor now and progress has been slower over the year. Here again a wide range from W. to V.G. is shown to be integrated closely with written expression in the new year.

Reading Encouraging progress made. Children are using the Country Library Service to the fullest extent. All children throughout the school with the exception of one senior boy have developed a good attitude towards and an interest in reading. Irregular attendance at times in the P. classes retards their progress. A good supplementary library is being built up for the lower division and Reference Books for the senior division.

Promotions into S.1 will have to continue with advanced P.4 work.

Spelling Satisfactory. No difficulty is anticipated with this subject in the coming year. Whitcombes Spelling List to be used. Children continue to use a mistake list for reference to difficulties.

Writing A still higher standard to be expected. Standard varies from W. to V.G.

Arithmetic S.3 have a poor standard. S.4 are good. F.1 and F.2 are V.F. to G. Problems causing trouble. S.1 still need Tables to develop speed accuracy. Models of all types of sums for reference will be tried out in the new year.

Social Studies A wide standard is shown here also. Projects on an individual basis were a limited success. These will be continued next year and with the addition of new reference books everyone's task should be easier. The new film-strip machine will aid their visual memory and give added interest in the coming year.

Nature Study Disappointing. Home gardens were commenced but continued bad weather delayed everything. Outside supervisor (Mr Withers) left the district and we have no-one at the moment to replace him. Calf Club is in recess and there is the possibility it may be revived in the coming year.

Primers Most children are showing steady progress. The children in P.4 are so old that promotions are inevitable. Smaller children in P.1 & 2 are doing well. Further apparatus is being made and coming to hand. Parents are interested and children keen.

General Everything planned (see last report) has been fulfilled with the exception of getting the school painted. There I have had no success but I am hoping that it will be painted early in the new year. The lawn area will be completed in the autumn. The parents have shown a greater interest in the school and have been very helpful in raising funds. Two socials held in the school to raise funds have brought them together and now they are prepared to continue to raise funds for the supply of more operation equipment.

Half Yearly Survey 1953
A D Bartlett 28/7/53

Written Expression The standard is really only Fair and no great improvement can be expected quickly. The Māori children in S.2 have improved and a slight improvement noted among S.1. Further work based on the sentence as a complete thought. Much of the work to be taken orally and on B.B.. S.4 to F.2 to continue from Bradbury.

Formal Language A satisfactory standard should be rendered by the end of the year. Punctuation and connections good. Naming of clauses and phrases has been forgotten but shall be revised. Frequent revision is necessary and shall be given.

Reading F.—V.G. A wide range of supplementaries has been built up in which children are interested. Many in F.1 will need more language study in close consultation with Formal Language and Spelling. The Primers are showing a satisfactory standard. S.1 remains the weak group. A

The Banda Machine

The machine consisted of several parts: a drum/roller to which the master-copy could be fixed; a handle to turn this drum; an absorbent pad to be soaked with special solvent; an in-tray for blank paper; and an out-tray for the copies.

The school Banda was kept in a corner of the staff room and neither were costs a problem.

Two different types of paper were needed to make a master. The top sheet was the master onto which you would type, write or draw. Below this was the dark coloured sheet, which faced upward and was coated with a layer of wax impregnated with colourant. The pressure of writing, typing or drawing on the top sheet transferred the coloured wax from the lower sheet to the shiny underside of the master, producing a mirror image of what was to be duplicated.

Several colours of waxed sheets were available, but purple/mauve was most commonly used, producing a good dark copy. Red, blue and green were useful, but black produced a less strong copy, while brown and yellow were often disappointing. You would use several different colours for any map or diagram. It made an interesting challenge to choose a good balance of colours.

greater % of time to be given to this group. Word building and word attack to be revised. Two are retarded due to deafness. Boyce's & Gate's Series to be used for remedial work with this group.

Spelling Seniors show a very good standard. Inclined to misspell small words e.g. "realy". Make up own "demon" lists. S.1 with one exception is weak. New method to be tried to improve their work:

Std 1 —

Monday: [1] Read in context.

[2] Children to re-read.

[3] Note difficulties.

[4] Words written in best handwriting.

Tuesday: [a] Fill in blank spaces.

[b] Word Building.

[c] Find words with similar endings or beginnings.

[d] Completions.

[e] Opposites.

[f] Alphabetical order.

[g] Family groups.

Choose a selection from these exercises.

Wednesday As for Monday.

Thursday Test and attack own mistakes.

Friday Context as Dictation - mistakes in list.

Std 2 to F.2 —

Monday: [a] Discussional. Word meanings.

Tuesday: [b] Combine into story or sentences.

[c] Exercises [a-g] of S.1+

[i] Syllables

[j] Singular to plural

[k] Nouns to adjectives, etc

[l] Jumbled words

Wednesday: 1st test.

Thursday: Individual errors and further exercises.

Friday: Test. Errors in Mistake Lists.

Writing Seniors writing speed is poor. Rhythical writing to correct same. Most likely bad habits shall be retained.

Extensive rhythmical and other exercises with lower classes as a satisfactory writing and legibility speed is attained. The standard is variable V.G. to F.

Arithmetic Problems a weakness. Teach children to:

[a] Read each Sum carefully.

[b] To select relevant data.

[c] To decide what arithmetical operation is needed.

[d] To check their answer to see if it is reasonable.

S.1 and S.2 are a week class and a thorough revision of work is to be taken to eliminate weaknesses. Graded examples and practical work where possible. Concrete examples and demonstrations.

Social Studies A satisfactory standard has been attained.

Nature Study The children are interested and keen. Having only girls in the senior classes has led to the abandonment of Home Gardens temporarily. These to be revived next year.

Primers Are progressing satisfactorily. Attendance is spasmodic with some of the Maori children.

General Excellent progress is regard to environment. School painted, cupboards built, lawn mown, fence rebuilt, culvert at gates put in. A grant for further sealing and re-sealing passed and contractors arrival awaited. The proportion of seniors to juniors and Maoris to Whites creates problems which make it more difficult to raise levels of attainment to a high standard.

Annual Survey 1953

Written Expression Improvement in sentence construction shown. Scheme to be modified to following:

A. Functional English.

B. Skill of Writing.

C. Opportunity to write.

[a] Write for Newspapers. Stories, news (local and general), verse, riddles, vital statistics, lost and found.

[b] Story Books. Illustrated and bound. Long and short stories.

[c] Social Studies work and Nature Study.

[d] Real letters.

Formal Language Good improvement shown in all classes.

Reading F. to V.G. Continued progress is assured as children are using reading as a pursuit. Remedial work with Bill to be continued.

Spelling A good standard except in S.1 and two pupils in S.2. Method as in Half Year Survey to be continued.

Writing A wide standard shown - more attention to bookwork to be insisted upon. Standard of writing in Writing Book to be kept in other books.

Arithmetic Work to be maintained on a practical basis. Setting out of work needs more attention, particularly in problems. Continue with games as a means of revising and learning Tables. Standard of work W. to V.G.

Social Studies Some very good work has been achieved this year. Children are interested and take good care of books. Excursions to places of interest where possible to be planned for next year, e.g. Brickworks.

Nature Study Children are interested. Some interesting studies made (of) school gardens have been successful.

General The standard of work is still showing a rising tendency. The children are working satisfactorily and generally as well as they are capable. Parents continue to show their interest and support of the school. An additional area is awaiting sealing. Whenever possible the children will be taken out of the school for visits to (a) other schools and (b) places of interest and educational value.

A 1950 view across the Huntly area. Lakes Waikere (top) Kimihia and Hakanoa sit to the East of the Waikato River as it flows North. The combined road/rail bridge was Huntly West's only link to State Highway #1. Ngaruawahia's Waipa Bridge (far to the South) and the Rangiriri Bridge (far to the North) were the nearest road access. The future site of Huntly College is seen immediately to the West of the bridge.

The light area on the southern shore of Lake Kimihia is the result of the start of opencast mining. This approach, over the ensuing years, eventually destroyed the lake. The farm areas to the south of Kimihia Lake and to the East of Hakanoa Lake were once Auckland University land and deemed of little value to the University. The Huntly township straddles State Highway #1 on the East of the Waikato River.

1954 Half Yearly Survey

Written Expression The standard of work is only very fair. The opportunity to write was given during the last term in [a] Social Studies, [b] Real Letters [c] Class Newspapers. For the remainder of the term a school story book to be written in conjunction with other work. Continual practice in the use of a sentence, that a story needs logical development and must be finished. Maori children have a tendency to ramble on and on tacking the pieces together with "and" etc. The B.B. is to be used to show the building up of stories.

Formal Language Form 2 has a good standard but Vina in F.1 needs attention to fundamentals. Take extra time work with Vina as in Written Expression she mixes tenses continually.

Reading The infants are making steady progress and all classes with one or two exceptions are making good progress. There is a healthy interest in reading for its own sake and ample use is made of the Library. With encouragement the slower and weaker pupils should make progress.

Spelling A good standard except in S.2 where there is definite intellectual difficulty. Encourage better pronunciation with the weaker pupils in S.1 & S.2. Continue exercises based on words.

Writing In trying to change pupils over from finger to arm movement a lowering of the standard has been evident. I think that the eventual improvement in speed and legibility will offset this temporary loss. Letter formations for S.1 to be as recommended. Other children to have choice.

Arithmetic Although results are disappointing the difficulties shown will be remedied and an improvement is expected. Basic Tables to be given more attention together with problems. Bill Whalwasser to start at fundamentals work separately to Arnold.

Social Studies Trips have been made to the Open Cast Mine, an Underground Mine, the Brickworks. They are also contemplating for the third term in trips to Taupiri and Horotiu. Children are keen and interested in their work.

General We are having difficulty with the tar-sealing insofar as the contractor would not carry out his promises due to work at the Huntly College. This means that the sealing will have to wait until the fine weather comes again. Parents are still interested in the school (and) are continuing to raise funds for the purchase of additional equipment. The Maori children are still inclined to be casual in their attendance.

1954 Annual Survey

Written Expression A good standard has been achieved in the upper classes, the work displaying creative and imaginative effort. In S.1&2 the standard is fairly poor and further attention must be paid to continuity and logical sequence of events. Motivation is urgently needed and an attempt to provide this will be made by using [a] outside visits, [b] real news work and [c] children's reading interests.

Formal Language A good foundation for secondary work has been laid for Form 2 pupils. Vina in Form 1 needs much attention to her basic grammar. This can best be given through correction of stories, in the writing of which she has real interest and talent.

Reading In all classes the standard of reading has improved considerably and this has been brought about by the use of Audience Reading. Oral and Written Comprehension is good except in S.1 and more attention will be given to building up better comprehension through simple exercises. Infant reading has shown steady progress except in cases of poor attendance. The Library is being fully used.

Spelling Formal spelling, except in S.2, is good but spelling in other areas is very, very careless. An increased use of dictionaries and dictionary notebooks is needed. The children must become spelling conscious in all their work. Poor pronunciation is a root cause of this fault and attention will be given to this in the coming year.

Writing The standard has had a slight falling tendency due mainly to [a] change from fingers to whole arm movement, [b] change of teaching method. This tendency has now been checked and the writing is showing a gradual improvement.

Arithmetic Forms 1 & 2, Std 3. The standard is only Fair and the root cause is the lack of training in basic Tables. These children seem to have been working too much on their own and have not the eager drive which must characterize this subject. Basic Tables will be thoroughly mastered next year. Std 1 & 2. Tables in this group are better and the children are now ready to go ahead on more advanced work. A good working spirit is evident.

Social Studies This is, I think, the best subject throughout the standards. The children are keen and eager and the standard of work is high. The following lines will be pursued next year: [a] Visits to places of interest, [b] Survey of District, [c] Exchange Surveys with other schools.

General The school grounds are being improved rapidly and, during the coming year, should make good progress. The parents display a keen social interest in the school, although this does not extend to the practical aspects except in the case of the Committee and one or two there. The Committee is excellent to work with and the members are prepared to work for the school at all times. An intense Pakeha and Māori feeling in the district had spread, to some extent, to the school children, but this has been eradicated. The children work well and are cheerful and keen. A number of big retarded Māori boys present some disciplinary problems, but next year some form of useful occupational work will be introduced, which should answer this problem.

With the construction of this coffer dam by Downer & Co, Kimihia School and the community was about to lose its swimming hole. The popular site is just off picture to the left where "The Point" was situated. Both the Point and the Island were focal points for bathers and picnickers on summer days. The beach and other areas along the shoreline were covered with coal slack that had worked its way around the lake from the original underground mine situated in the right background. The dam allowed for the removal of overburden via dredging so that the 10 meter thick coal seam could be mined.

Watercolour painting of Lake Kimihia
by Neil Holland in March 1942

The school was situated on the rise at the right (arrowed), the location blocked by the two large trees. The line angling up behind the trees indicates the road to the mine. Coal was trucked out as well as by train. The noise of the trucks as they strained up the hill and past the school often drowned out any teaching. In winter the truck wheels spun off any metal on the hill road and exposed the slick clay beneath, making the hill unclimbable. A gentler curved approach to the hill was constructed but the noise of the trucks continued until an easier access that paralleled the railway line was constructed.

This 1957 mid-winter photograph of the school is viewed from a point on a rise near the girls' toilet. In the distance to the right (arrow) can be seen part of the remnants of Lake Kimihia as the opencast mining excavations gradually filled it with soil from the coal pit excavations.

The headmaster's residence sat across the road from the school (viewed left) and a telephone was installed there in June 1957. Also a radio for the schoolroom was ordered at a cost of nineteen pounds so that the Radio to Schools broadcast could be received.

Kimihia Railway Station - 1877 to 1939

Kimihia Station location.

Lake Kimihia drainage creek into the Waikato River (far left).

State Highway 1

Fisher Road (now called Sutherlands Lane).

Kimihia Railway Station was on the North Island Main Trunk line, north of Huntly. The station was in 1886 measured as 19 miles 33 chain (31.2 km) south of Mercer, near the junction of Fisher Road with SH1, about 1.4 km (0.87 mi) north of the junction with the Kimihia branch. That junction was 101.06 km (62.80 mi) south of Auckland and 576.54 km (358.25 miles) from Wellington.

One source said it was much nearer Huntly, where Kimihia Rd crossed the railway. Kimihia Rd level crossing was closed to traffic in 1945.

The station opened when the Main Trunk was extended from Mercer to Ngāruawāhia, on 13 August 1877, built on part of Robert Reilly Ralph's (later owner of Ralph's coalmine) 1,000 acres (400 ha) farm.

Kimihia was usually not shown in timetables and was often one of the minor stations not served by passenger trains.

A 1894 petition asked for Kimihia siding be converted into a flag station. In 1895 (just two years before the Kimihia School opened) trains called at Kimihia Siding for school children and it became a flag station from 7 February 1896. By the end of that year it had a shelter shed, passenger platform and a passing loop for 37 wagons.

The Kimihia Community in the '50s

This farm cottage, at the junction of Kimihia and James Roads, was used for a period of time as the Headmaster's residence prior to a purpose-built house being established opposite the school. The house was 10-12 minutes walk away from the school and was used by the senior girls for their sewing under the direction of Mrs Lawless, wife of the sole teacher Pat Lawless.

The village houses were clad with creosoted boards. Later, when the porch areas were built over to add a third bedroom, they were repainted in a cream enamel paint with white trim and red sills. The youngsters from the mining and farming communities got on well and generated their own entertainments. It took the best part of an hour to walk into Huntly on such adventures as Saturday morning movies or Friday evening shopping. A taxi service was available, as was rural delivery of mail, groceries, bread, papers, fish and milk.

Stancy MacDonald and friend.

Blackberry picking was a popular activity but the mothers that sent their children out to pick for jam-making purposes never got back in their billys the volume they had hoped for. The incriminating evidence was often seen around the mouths of their children who often arrived home with tales of low harvests!

Jimmy Clark (driving) giving neighbours Christine and Sandy MacDonald a ride in his motorised car, built by his father. Jimmy's dad worked as an engineer at the mine. The No.1 on the front of the car was placed on backwards. At the back on the rise is the water tank that supplied the seven houses in the village. The sections for each house was quite large, allowing a very large garden area and a spacious lawn.

All of the houses (built in 1947) were on nightsoil systems and required the contents of the toilet to be emptied at regular intervals into holes dug in the gardens. Needless to say the produce of these gardens was quite prolific! In the mid-50s flush toilets and septic tanks were installed.

An annual allowance of coal was deposited by the mine authorities at the front gate of each dwelling for firing up the cooking stoves, lounge fires and for heating the water cylinders.

A view of Russell Road looking south. Just behind the trees in the centre is what was to become the junction of McVie Road. Kimihia Lake is far off to the left and was easily viewed from the front doors of these homes along Russell Road.

There were 7 houses in the village, built for the married men who were contracted by Downer & Company to convert the abandoned underground mine into an open-cast venture. Single workers had their own huts. Shower and kitchen facilities were situated across from the houses.

Shown here are five of the homes. There was a fire hose stationed on the fence-line at each second house and was used for much more than potential firefighting. Here a hose is shown drying on a fence-line.

At the far end of the row can be seen the tennis court, built as a recreational area. Not very much use was made of the facility and the associated building (inset below) was used as an additional house. Just over the rise in the distance was the Kimihia school, about 10 lazy minutes walk by road or by paddock.

A view north along Russell Road from what is now the McVie Road intersection.

One of the original Russell Road homesteads (no longer standing).

An awkward dip and curve in Kimihia Road, 400 yards east of the Russell Road intersection, being straightened out with heavy machinery from Downer & Company, who also had the contract for running Kimihia opencast mine. The road correction was to facilitate easier travel by the trucks carrying coal from the mine, eliminating a particularly nasty small hill.

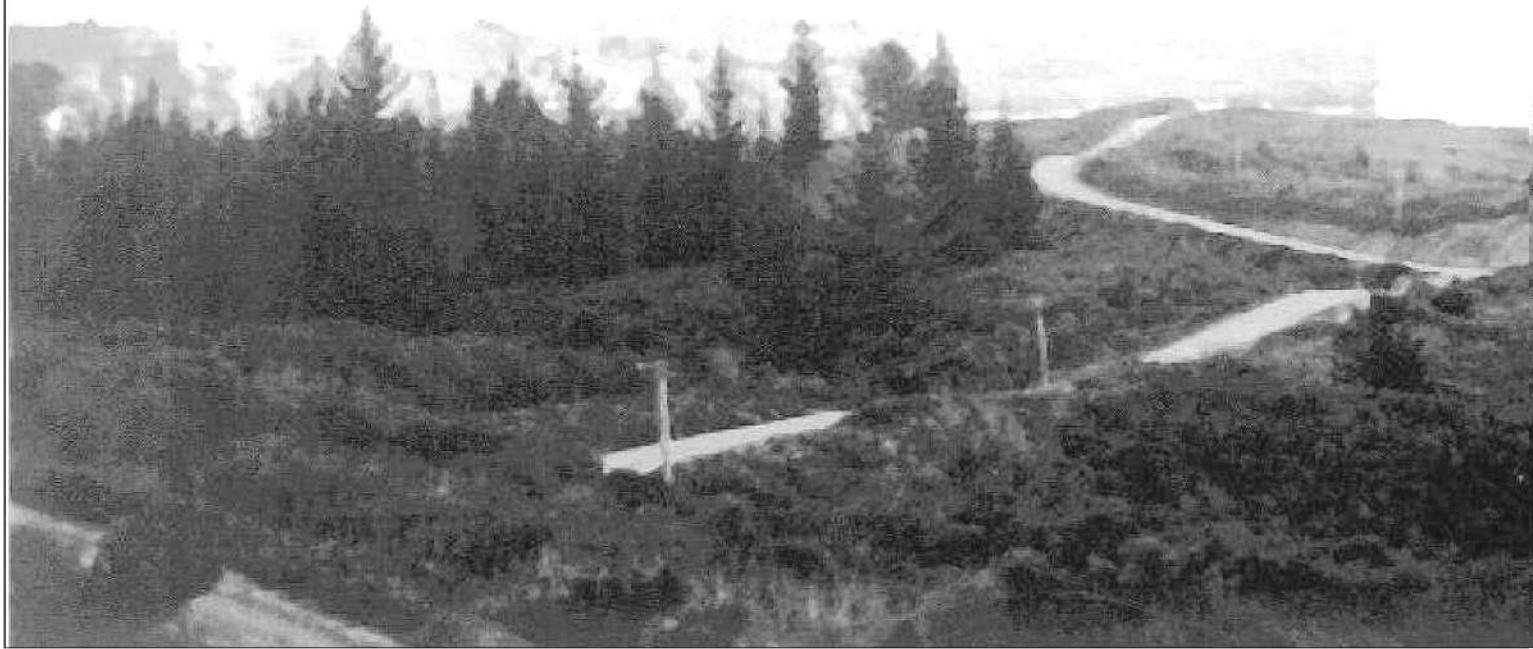

The Kimihia Road correction with the earth movement nearly completed and awaiting metal. The Yates farm is at the top right of the photo. At some time in the future a concrete water supply reservoir was placed on the hill in the distance to supply the increase in residential buildings. The road was originally constructed to service the underground mine in the early 1900s and later the farms that were developed by some of the miners.

During 1957 the South Auckland Education Board sent an instruction to all schools to commence a record of events at the school - a Log Book. The direction stated that.....

"Entries, which should be dated, should cover such matters as are of importance to the school, mainly from the point of view of an historical record of events of interest in the life of the school. Entries could well be made to cover items of interest such as additions and alterations to school buildings, staff appointments and terminations, school committee election results, educational visits, special gala days, and so on."

April 1957

Staff Reporter Hamilton

More than 300 past pupils, teachers and visitors attended the Diamond Jubilee celebrations of the Kimihia School, near Huntly, on Saturday.

The roll was called by Mr Maurice Priestley, the teacher who opened the school in 1897. Using a Māori canoe, he used to paddle across Hakanoa Lake from Huntly every day and then walk some distance to the school. Eleven of the 33 first-day pupils answered the roll call.

Some families of three living generations were present. Mr T. Holland presided at the function and a group photograph taken of the members of the Holland family members present included 34 people of four generations. They ranged in age from 75 years to four weeks.

The jubilee programme included the formal assembly, a thanksgiving service and a ball held in the R.S.A. Hall, Huntly. _____

DIAMOND JUBILEE KIMIHIA SCHOOL CELEBRATIONS HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL FUNCTION

The 60th Jubilee celebrations of the Kimihia School were held on Saturday afternoon, August 17, in mild spring sunshine, and proved very successful and enjoyable. More than 300 past pupils, teachers and visitors attended, and 11 of the 33 first-day pupils answered the roll call.

Of the 16 former teachers of the school, six were present, Mr Maurice Priestley, of Auckland (the first teacher), Mr Alec. McIntosh, of Huntly, Mr M. J. O'Brien, of Orakei, Miss A. E. Davies, of Auckland, Mr W. Parsonage, of Kawerau No. 2 School, and Mr A. Bartlett, of Papatoetoe.

Some families of three living generations were present. Mr Tom Holland Jnr, was chairman for the celebrations, and a group photograph taken of the members of the Holland family present included 34 people of four generations.

The proceedings began with the National Anthem, the singing being led by the present pupils and their teacher, Mr P. T. Lawless.

A short thanksgiving service followed, conducted by the Rev. A. A. Wright, vicar of Huntly.

Addresses were given by Mr Tom Holland (chairman), Mr R. Yates (chairman of the Kimihia School Committee), Mr Black, Inspector of Schools (on behalf of the Education Board), and Mr E. J. Crouch, chairman of the Waikato County Council.

The honour of ringing the school bell was given to Mr Edwin Clinch, of Kaitaia, one of the oldest pupils present.

Before the roll was called by the original teacher, Mr Maurice Priestley, now aged about 82, who opened the school in August, 1897, and taught there until December, 1901, he was presented with an autograph book by the chairman, Mr Holland, which contained the names of 90 pupils who attended the school while he was teacher. Fifteen pupils who answered the roll call and later signed the autograph book were as follows: Mrs R. Wilson (Huntly), Mr Charles Dunn (Auckland), Mr Thomas Holland, Senr. (Kimihia), Mr Edwin Clinch (Kaitaia), Mr John Fleming (Pukemiro), Mr Fred Dunn (Renown), Mrs R. Dooley (Ngaruawahia), Mrs F. Kay (Huntly), Mrs M. J. Shaw (Huntly), Mrs N. Boswell (Hikurangi), Mrs G. Crowder (Auckland), Mr W. A. Paterson (Karako), Mr W. Kohi (Huntly), Mr Ernest Hall (Huntly), Mrs Hazel Neil (Buckland).

In his address, Mr Priestley recalled that he used to paddle across Hakanoa Lake from Huntly in a Māori canoe every day and then walk some distance to the school. He presented back to the school the paddle which he had used.

The official host and hostess were Mr John Holland and Mrs R. Wilson.

Mesdames R. Wilson, G. Crowder (as oldest pupil), A. McIntosh, M. J. Shaw, F. Kay and Miss A. E. Davies were presented with shoulder sprays by pupils of the school. Mrs R. Yates, wife of the chairman of the Kimihia School Committee, and Mrs T. Holland Jnr, wife of the chairman of the Jubilee Committee, also received shoulder sprays.

The old pupils were then assembled to be photographed. There was a surprisingly large number of people for a group photograph of those who had attended the school in the decade, 1897-1906.

Later a specially baked cake was cut jointly by Mrs Georgina Crowder (nee Troughear), the oldest ex-pupil present, and by the youngest pupil now attending the school, Terry Drayton, of Russell's Road, Huntly.

A delightful afternoon tea was then served, and later many were afforded a great opportunity of renewing old acquaintances.

During the afternoon those present were given the opportunity of inspecting a display by the school children of social study work, which was greatly appreciated.

In the evening about 200 attended a most enjoyable dance in the Huntly R.S.A. Hall, music being supplied by Mr J. Tweedie's orchestra. Appreciated items were given by Messrs R. Yates and R. Jones. Mr V. Shaw acted as M.C.

A delicious supper was served during the evening.

All those in attendance gather for the official speeches that were being conducted in front of the shelter shed. One of the Form 2 pupils (Sandy MacDonald) was instructed by the teacher (Pat Lawless) to remain in the main school building to act as a 'security guard' over the displays as the others enjoyed the outside activities.

In the far corner of the ground (above the parked cars) was the area where the grass huts were constructed each time the field was mown and the children had to rake up the clippings. The fields were often mown by one of the local farmers with a tractor. At infrequent intervals the senior boys were allowed to mow the whole field with the 'new' 12 inch motor-mower.

The 'bush' in the background was a fairly narrow strip of school property that provided a buffer zone between the school and the farmland beyond. The bush was all secondary growth with many wattles, blackberries and assorted ground cover. It was used only occasionally as a nature study resource.

The high netting fence was erected to prevent tennis balls from vanishing into the mysteries of the scrub. It was in this area that the senior boys sometimes carried out the Friday duties of digging the toilet waste holes ready for Saturday emptying.

The reunion crowd gathering for the speeches in front of the shelter shed. Note the almost vanished pathway up to the toilets, now superseded by a brand new concrete footpath. This photograph was taken standing on top of the girl's toilet.

The school headmaster's dwelling can be seen above the temporary shelter that was constructed against inclement weather. The temporary shelter was built from loaned materials and assembled by the local farmers and mine workers.

The day was very hot, and the morning sun shone strongly through the two open windows and melted the plasticine models that had been constructed by some of the pupils. The displays inside were made up of historical writings by the children, art work, craft constructions and other student-produced work. Pupils were required to talk about their work to any who stopped to admire the displays.

Dear Tom Holland.

My many thanks for your expressed wish to meet me at some future time. But as the 75th anniversary will not occur until 1972 I'm afraid I will not be as presentable then as I was on Aug. 18, 1957. To all good friends who showed me such kindness I send my very best wishes - including you dear dad.

Sincerely yours
Maurice Priestley

P.S. I wrote to Mr. Lawless asking him to send the Autograph book and received it from you the same day that I wrote to him.

A letter to Tom Holland from Maurice Priestley following the 60th Reunion.

PADDLED OWN CANOE

Kimihia Teacher Of 60 Years Ago

Staff Reporter

Hamilton

More than 300 past pupils, teachers and visitors attended the diamond jubilee celebrations of the Kimihia School, near Huntly, on Saturday.

The roll was called by Mr Maurice Priestley, the teacher who opened the school in 1897. Using a Maori canoe, he used to paddle across Hakanoa lake from Huntly every day and then walk some distance to the school. Eleven of the 33 first-day pupils answered the roll call.

Some families of three living generations were present. Mr T. Holland presided at the function and a group photograph taken of the members of the Holland family present included 34 people of four generations. They ranged in age from 75 years to four weeks.

The jubilee programme included the formal assembly, a thanksgiving service and a ball held in the R.S.A. Hall, Huntly.

EX-PUPILS GATHERED FOR KIMIHIA SCHOOL DIAMOND JUBILEE

The weather was kind to the Kimihia Diamond Jubilee Committee on Saturday afternoon when some 300 ex-pupils, past teachers and visitors assembled in mild spring sunshine at the 60-year-old school, two miles from Huntly. The chairman of the committee, Mr Tom Holland, Jnr, presided and proceedings began with the National Anthem, the singing being led by the present pupils and their teacher, Mr P. T. Lawless.

A short thanksgiving service followed, and then the first roll was called by the original teacher, now an octogenarian of Auckland, Mr Maurice Priestley, who opened the school in August, 1897. Of the 33 on the roll, eleven, all of them over 65 years of age, answered their names. Of the 16 former teachers, five were present. A specially baked cake was cut jointly by the oldest ex-pupil present and the youngest pupil now attending the school. Afternoon tea was then served.

There was a surprisingly large number of people for a group photograph of those who had attended at the school in the decade 1897-1906. Three families were able to muster three generations each of past and present pupils. These were the Hollands, the Valentines and the McGlyns. No fewer than 34 members of the Holland family were present, covering four generations, and ranging in ages from a man in his 70's to an infant four weeks old.

Ingenious Model

A feature of the celebrations was a display of four models, the work of the present pupils. One of these represented the original Maori pa on the shore of Kimihia Lake. Another showed the present school and its surroundings. The third was a model of the Kimihia village in its early days.

The fourth showed the Kimihia opencast mine as it is at present, and was ingeniously constructed of actual clay and coal taken from the spot, with models of the belt conveyor, the hoppers, and even models of bulldozers and other forms of earth-moving machinery.

It was recalled that the first teacher, Mr Maurice Priestley, lived in Huntly, and every schoolday paddled across Hakanoa Lake and then tramped over the clay track to the school. During the afternoon Mr Priestley said that the canoe he used was no longer in existence but he had kept the paddle as a souvenir. Producing the paddle, still in a good state of preservation, he presented it to the school. It was accepted by the chairman, and will be mounted on an inside wall of the school.

The reunion concluded with a ball on Saturday evening.

Long-Term Student

A teen-age Maori boy seemed rather nonplussed at the Kimihia School's diamond jubilee celebrations on Saturday. The organisers were having the ex-pupils photographed in ten-year groups from 1897 to 1957. After the youth had joined four different groups extending over 40 years, a bystander remarked, "That young fellow must have been at this school for quite a long time."

After 60 Years

Original teacher at the Kimihia School Mr Maurice Priestley, who is over 80, called the first roll at the school's diamond jubilee celebrations on Saturday. When he called "Ernie Hall," a septuagenarian proudly raised his hand, clicked his heels and answered, "Present, Sir." Pausing, and looking over his spectacles in the best pedagogical manner, Mr Priestley asked, "And have you learned your spelling this morning, Ernie?"

- Miss M. Johnson's employment was terminated on this date as a permanent assistant has been appointed. During her term, Miss Johnson showed herself to be a capable and conscientious worker, whose teaching qualities and techniques would have done credit to a certified teacher.

November

- Mrs. L. Wilson commenced as permanent assistant.
- Sarah Watene, Form II, has been granted a four-year scholarship to Queen Victoria Māori College. This is the first scholarship gained from this school.

- A successful evening was organised in the school by the PTA. Mr. Lawless and Mrs. Wilson gave an outline of the day's work in the school. Mr. R. Cates, Phys Ed Officer, showed films on the teaching of swimming and artificial respiration, and a Bring & Buy, which raised the sum of £5/3/- was held.

- A working bee was held to put in a tile drain along the southern edge of the tennis court. Workers were Messrs Grut, Yates, Watene, Johnson and Lawless.

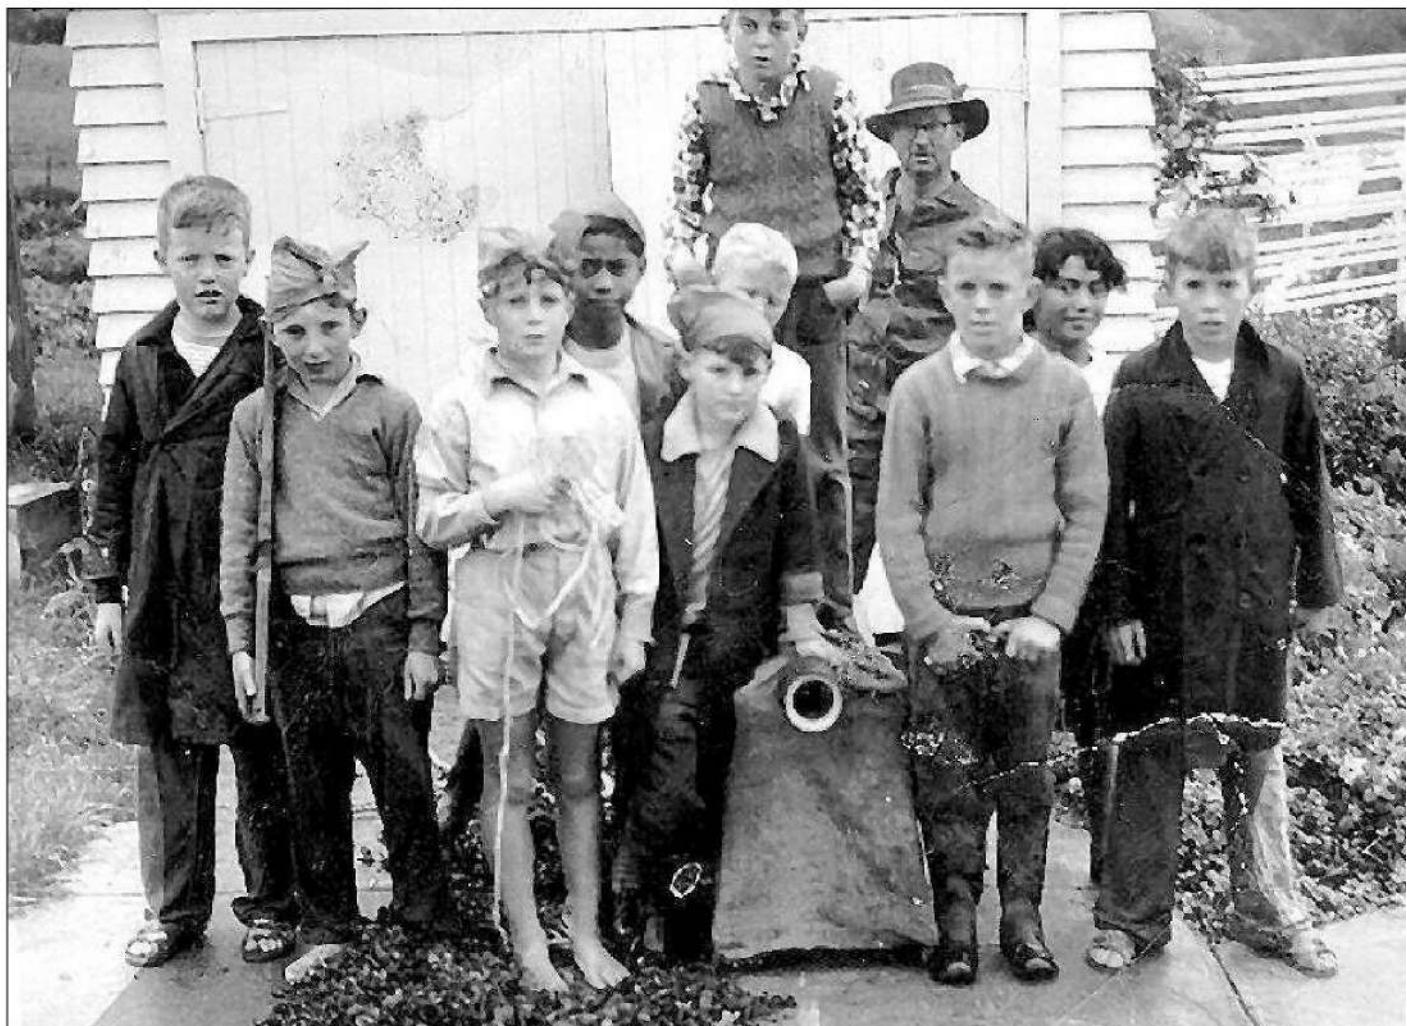

- A working bee was held to construct a sandpit. Workers were Messrs Harris, Watene, Tahakura, Fisher, Steele, Lewis and Lawless.

- Messrs Lewis and Lawless completed the sandpit and poured some patching concrete at the tarseal.

December

- School Picnic held at Hamilton Lake.
- Teacher, children and PTA members from Pukekapia school came today for an afternoon. The visitors were shown the school and two games of softball were played. Afternoon tea was provided by ladies of the Kimihia PTA. There was a good attendance of parents to join in the afternoon's activities.
- Results: A team - Pukekapia 29, Kimihia 22. B team - Pukekapia 30, Kimihia 22.
- An end of year Christmas Party was held in the school and was combined with an end of term concert. Items of interest were: Play 'The Raft' by F II - S4 pupils. Play 'One Red Cherry' by S1, S2, S3 pupils written and produced by pupil Sarah Watene. This play was unique in that Sarah had written each part to suit the individual talents and abilities of each cast member. Hula Hoop item performers were Ian Harris (S3), David Lewis (S1), Ann Valentine (P4) and Marie Gorinski (P1). The Skiffle Group incorporated most of the FII - S4 pupils.

Jimmy is the 'pirate' leaning on the cannon.
Each arriving guest was welcomed aboard with a firecracker fired up in the cannon.

The school building viewed from beneath the large gum tree which seasonally shed its bark and made a mess of the grassed area in its vicinity. The trunk was too thick and the lower branches too high off the ground to permit climbing, although one branch swung tantalisingly near the ground which only the taller pupils could reach.

individual talents and abilities of each cast member. Hula Hoop item performers were Ian Harris (S3), David Lewis (S1), Ann Valentine (P4) and Marie Gorinski (P1). The Skiffle Group incorporated most of the FII - S4 pupils.

A clash of heads in a rugby game involving Brian Grut and Ian Harris resulted in teacher Pat Lawless taking the two boys into Huntly to Dr Willoughby for scalp repairs.

After dropping Jimmy off at home, and on the way to do the same to Brian, Pat Lawless came across Myrtle and Phillip Watene who had come off the bike on the way home down the hill at the back of the school and were badly abraded. This saw another trip into the Doctor for treatment.

After the last visit the doctor commented "This is the fourth child from Kimihia school I have treated today. The discipline out there must be good!"

Pupils living over a specified distance from school could be taxed in at the Ministry's expense. The Watene's and Grut's mileage from gate to gate was just under that specified, so Dick Yates and Pat Lawless re-measured from farmhouse door to schoolroom door and found the extra required mileage to authorise a taxi service for those pupils!

THE XMAS TREE

BY Charles Lewis

One day Tim and his father were out looking for a xmas tree.
But they couldn't find
one. Then Tim saw one just the size they wanted.
So they cut it down.
Then Tim said "How are we going to get it
home?" "I don't know" said
Tim's father. Then Tim heard the sound of a truck coming along the road.
The truck said Tim
"Mum must have come to look for us".
So they stopped the truck and went home with the xmas tree.

ON CHRISTMAS

NIGHT,

By Charles

Joe woke up. He was still dark, and he could hear the wind howling out side. Suddenly he heard the crack of a rifle. He jumped out of bed and ran into the living room. He looked around the room when he had turned the light on. He could not see anything with the glare of the light. Then he saw his father lying on the floor with blood pouring out of his mouth. It looked like he had been shot through the mouth. Joe quickly looked through the window and saw a car parked down the drive. He picked up his slug gun, that he had got for Xmas. And then walked up to see if he noticed that their Christmas tree had been put out side but he had no time to wonder about that because he heard a car starting up. He quickly picked up his gun and took aim at the car's back; then Bang! Bang? He exploded into little pieces and burst into flames. Tom then jumped out of the car and ran into the garage. Joe ran to the doors of the garage and shut them. By this time he

Christmas

For Christmas I want a bag of lollies,
Two trains & lots of dolls.
I crept down stairs on Christmas Eve,
To see what I could see.
And all that I could see was a funny little tree,
All decorated in silver and gold.
(Oh my! Oh my! that night was cold)

I then crept back to bed,
And went to sleep on my sleepy head.

Christmas
Nights
Tea.

FII

By G.Y.

On Christmas night, we had a big tea. There was Mum, Dad, Kelvin, Jimmy, Grandad, Gran and myself to feed. First we had, roast chicken, potatoes and pumpkin, also beans and peas, cabbage, spinach and cauliflower. After that we had finished we had steamed pudding, ice cream, jelly custard, peaches and cream. When Mum had served it she started to giggle and told Dad cut the steamed pudding. So he got the knife and cut down the middle. As he finished there was a terrible bang and streamers went all over us and the table while Mum was nearly basting hysterics. Inside of the steamed pudding she had put a Christmas cracker.

There was a pig

Christmas Nights
Tea

F II

By G.Y.

On Christmas night, we had a big tea. There was Mum, Dad, Kelvin, Jimmy, Grandad Gran and myself to feed. First we had, roast chicken, potatoes and pumpkin, also beans and peas, cabbage, spinach and cauliflower. After that we had finished we had steamed pudding, ice cream, jelly, custard, peaches and cream. When Mum had served it she started to giggle and told Dad cut the steamed pudding. So he got the knife and cut down the middle. As he finished there was a terrible bang and streamers went all over us and the table while Mum was nearly bawling hysterics. Inside of the steam pudding she had put a Christmas cracker.

Bridge Opening

FII
 G. Yates.

On the 14th of November the new Huntly bridge opened. There were hundreds of people standing on both footpaths and on trucks. The bridge celebration was said to have opened at 10:30 but at that time they were shovelling coal off the bridge which the miners had purposely dropped there. They were also giving speeches. While they were doing that the James Aviation planes were zooming over the middle of the bridge and doing tricks in the air and underneath the bridge speed boats were also zooming up and down the river. One got stuck in the sand-banks. After a long wait the procession finally started. The time being 2:30. First came the mayor and other important people from Huntly. Then the officers from the army, navy, and airforce, then came old carts pulled by horses, also all sorts of old jalopies, followed by bands and marching girls. Then came the floats the first one being the bridge queen's and her attendants, who were Carol Lambert and Barbara Thomas the queen being Jean Stewart. After that came floats from all over the Waikato. And last of all came the army, navy and airforce with guns and radio equipment. Then everyone got their cars and rode all over the new bridge.

Gadsby's New House.

卷四

In the morning the workers came back. They got it about 40 yards from the gate. Then the foreman came over and asked if Mrs. Gadsby would make some tea for them. So she got some beans from the shop and came over. I made the tea and they went back. They had their tea and started work. But as the ground was wet the trailer with the house on sunk into the ground. Then the County truck that was pulling it got stuck, after that they got the other truck but that got stuck also. After unloading the trucks to make them lighter the foreman rang the Sixth Hay Construction Place to send out their Fordson tractor. When it came out it pulled the truck. While they were busy doing that half of the workers were pulling down the fence and getting the site ready.

After more tea and some lunch they started work again. They bought it up to the site and had to turn it around. After some hard work they got it around, and in doing so they trailer made ruts in the lawn about 3 inches deep. Then about 5 o'clock they went home.

On a rainy morning in late summer, not so very many years ago, five men stood to gether at the end of a road. They were in the northeastern part of the United States and all around them was a forest. For three miles there was not a house or a building of any kind.

One of them was dressed only in a bath robe. He talked to his friends for a while and promised to meet them at this same spot in two months.

The first day he had to look for food, he didn't find much food, but the next day he found plenty. He caught several fish and killed a rabbit. He found more mushrooms.

But still, he was not comfortable. The weather was getting chilly and had to make some clothes.

By Myrtle

It was Xmas eve, and Julie and her father got a Christmas tree. That night Julie lay in bed thinking what Santa Claus would bring her. She fell fast asleep after her mother told her a story about Santa Claus's Reindeer's. Julie woke up at seven o'clock. She jumped out of bed and dressed and went down to the sitting room. There she saw father and mother dressed and was there before her. She brought out her stocking of a toy she found best and toy bear, a doll, a box, a ball, paints, and coloured pencils. They had no food while mother was away. After the feast they sang and danced around the tree. Julie wished that Santa would come again.

One day, a little pup came walking up the street. It had no collar on its neck. It was black and white. The dog had been living with an old man. The old man said to his wife which the dog was bad. I will kill our pup because he is lazy and buy a new one. So the dog ran away. He went for a fire and a coal flew down. "Master told his wife he was going to kill me." I ran away. "I will come with you." They walked and walked until they came to a hill with some trees. It was a good place to sleep. The two friends were very tired by that time. The coal flew up the tree and the fog kept down on the ground. They saw two lights coming towards them. They flew down to the dog. The dog told him two lights were coming closer to them. They looked out to see why it was. It was a man and a lady. They had come to look for their child. They told the dog and coal all their place and how they killed my master.

On Guy Fawkes night Dad made a Guy and when it was burning I let a sky Rocket off and made a jumping jack go off. When it was finished we had some tow thumbs to let off and we had three sky Rockets left. When it was on it was on Thursday 5th and we had some spinning wheels. We had a lot of flowerpots left and we went over to the schools Bon fire and let off some of those red ones. Then we went to get some more off our own Bon fire. Those crackers then we let those crackers at fire.

Hills By Wayne

Hills have got tunnels because some people might want to go under hills and they sometimes go on top.

On hills they have a lot of bush and animals. A lot of hills sometimes have big bags but all hills have bush, trees, rabbits but more have tunnels. All hills have telegraph poles.

There are hills in paddocks because if there wasn't any hills the paddocks will get flooded with water. Some hills and paddocks don't get flooded with water. The hills are deep down. Some hills are deeper but the hills in paddocks are green with grass, the other have bush and trees.

Teachers: Mr D Skilton, Mr J H Walker, Mrs Skilton.

February

- Mr D. Skilton served as a relieving teacher for just the first week of the year, followed by Mr J. H. Walker who took over the same duties on the 8th February. He was confirmed as the permanent teacher on March 1st.

April

- Mrs J. Walker relieved from the 8th to the 14th of April during Mrs Wilson's illness. Mrs Walker stayed on after the return of Mrs Wilson to spend an hour a day to hear the reading of the much retarded readers in the senior school.
- Mrs Cope was elected chairman of the P.T.A. in place of Mrs Graff who was leaving the district at the end of April.

May

- At a P.T.A. meeting, a Bell & Howell 16mm film projector was demonstrated to the parents and the headmaster was invited to speak about the academic standards in the school and to explain the procedure adopted to remedy weaknesses.
- From timber supplied by the committee Mr Walker put additional wider shelves in the prefab storeroom and porch. Mr Grut constructed bookshelves which were erected in the main building.
- Up until the 31st of May the school committee were inactive, due to the departure of their secretary Mr Vercoe, with the books being unavailable. Mr Grut was appointed secretary and Mr W. Valentine invited on to the committee.
- Mrs Walker continued to give an hour each day to help backward readers, working under the direction of Mr Walker and Mrs Wilson.
- Being of the opinion that children are not capable of adequately cleaning out a school, the main building has been done during the holidays by Mr & Mrs Walker. The floor was scrubbed, all woodwork washed and cobwebs cleaned off walls and ceiling. The results were very pleasing, with old residents who attended card evenings in the building expressing their delight and claiming that they had never known the school to look so clean and tidy.

June

- A number of wattles growing near the end of the prefab were cut down to enable the early morning sun to have some effect in helping to warm the classroom.

July

- Mr Ron Green entertained at a social evening held in the prefab by the P.T.A. on July 31st. At the end of the following month Mr Gib Drayton and Mr Walker held a slide show. Following the show a new school committee was elected and comprised

Mr Gorinski (chairman),
Mrs Irene Lewis (secretary),
Mr J. Walker,
Mrs D. Cope,
Mr D. Holland,
Mr van der Kaap,
Mrs Yates
Mr Fisher.

- Mrs Tweedie hosted a party at her residence where games were played and a number of quick-fire raffles run with proceeds going to the PTA to purchase a daylight screen for the projector. A profit of £8/12/0 was made.

August

- On the 19th of August a very successful school concert was held with a record crowd in attendance (the room being full to capacity). All were appreciative of the good standard of the items, which included songs and verse-speaking by the seniors, songs and poems by the infants, a PE display of mat-work, a musical play 'Sleeping Beauty' by the infants, and three plays by the seniors 'Mr Miacca', 'The True Princess' and 'Little Black Sambo'.

- Everything was suitably staged with curtains, wings, backdrop, ceilings and stage lights. The costumes made by the parents, Mrs Wilson and Mrs Walker were excellent. Makeup was prepared and used. The items followed in quick succession with no waits between scenes. Supper was provided in the infant room.

- Mr Jack Shaw donated a coloured aerial photograph to the school.

October

- A working bee on the first Sunday in October saw the removal of four overhanging wattles from the garden corner, the straightening and tightening of the west roadside fence, the construction of a new gate at the front entrance, the regrading of the playground along the road fence and the construction of a new fence.

- The workers commenced at 9:30am and worked through until 4pm and comprised Mr Fisher, Mr Grut, Mr Valentine, Mr Gorinski, Mr Lewis, Mr Walker, Mr Anderson and Mr Yates. A front-end loader was borrowed from Downers and a tractor from Mr Valentine. Mr Grut provided a tractor with a post-hole drill attached.

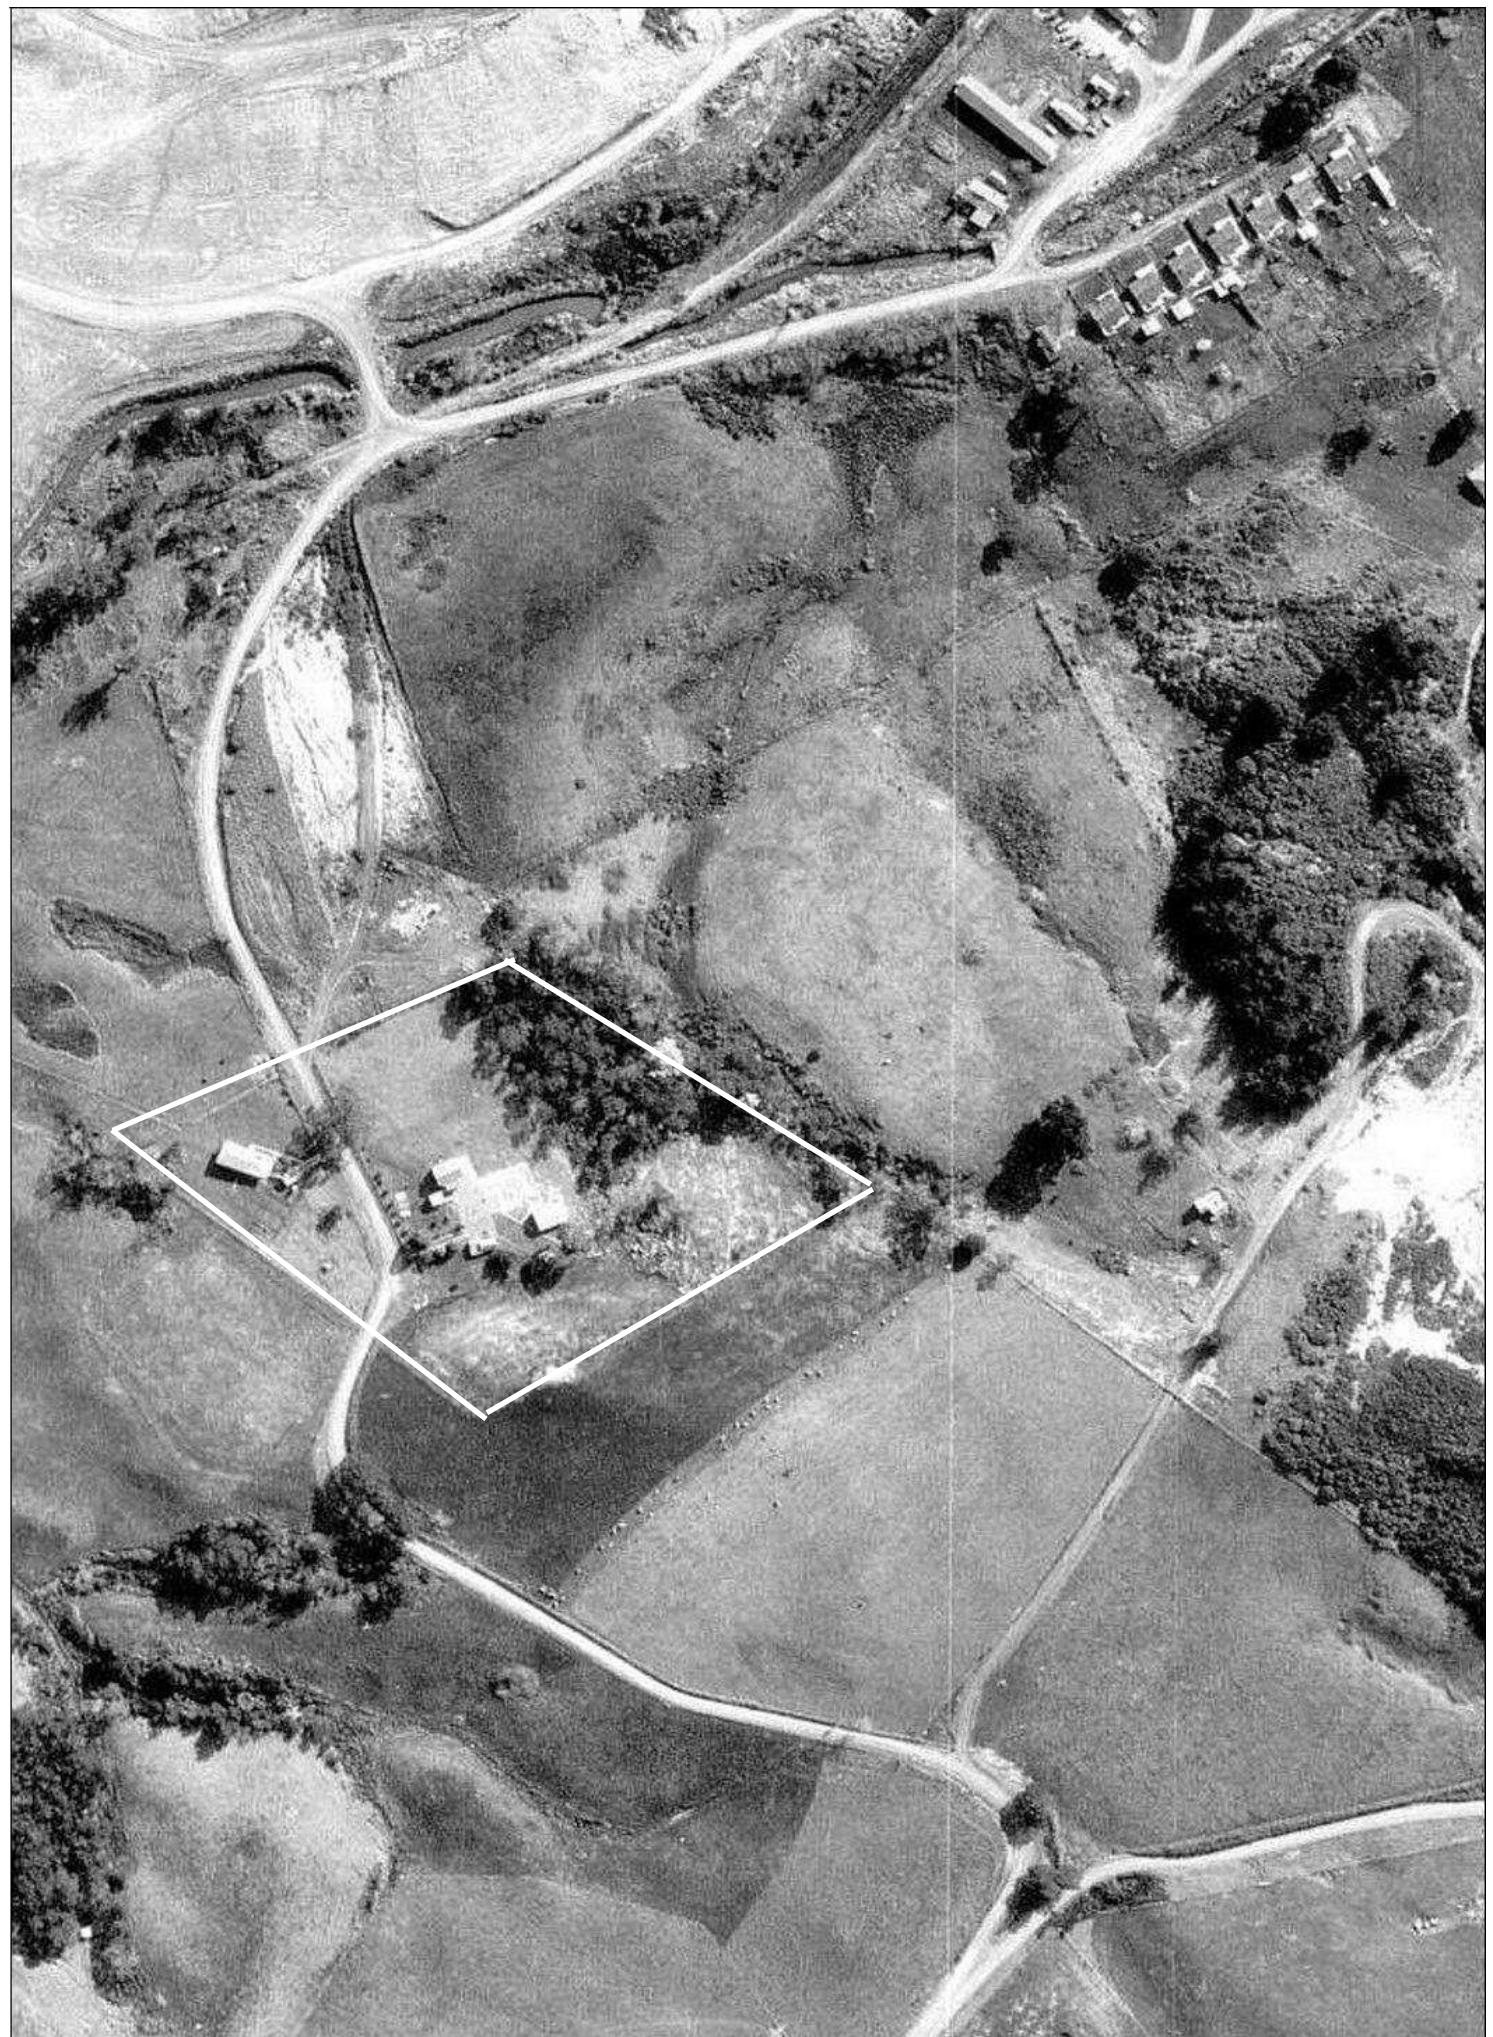

The Kimihia school is circled to the left and the mining village of seven houses is arrowed just below it. In the middle distance, just over the ridge where Kimihia Road runs, is the shallow body of water of Hakanoa Lake. This lake is used for boating and yachting.

The mine pit was off-limits to the children of the district, but that didn't stop them from enjoying the wild nature of the pit edges. On summer days the heavy tyres of the earthmoving machines pounded the dry soil until a fine dust called 'bulldust' was generated. This had the consistency of talcum powder and provided the ultimate sensation as it flowed between the toes of the barefooted explorers. On fine days the dust coated everything in sight and the householders were compelled to keep their windows closed in a vain attempt to keep the dust from getting inside the houses.

This is a 1960 aerial photograph of the mine looking out towards Huntly. The total destruction of the Lake can be clearly seen as efforts are made to remove the overburden from the 30' thick coal seams, which slope away downward to the right. This was the limit to which opencast mining was a viable concern. To remove further overburden to the north (right) would have made the removal of the coal uneconomic. In later years the coal was to be removed by returning to underground extraction - longwall mining.

The dredge is seen here working in its own pond as it strips away the softer lake bed before the area is opened up for use by the bulldozers, euclids and carryalls. All overburden was dumped into what remained of the lake to the right.

School property (outlined); the school house across the road; and the seven houses of the Kimihia mine village at the top right of the photo (1960).

February

- After two years service with the infants and Standard 1 Mrs Wilson resigned and took up the position of Senior Mistress at Huntly College. She was responsible for the uplift in reading skills of her past pupils and had established a very good standard in the Infant Room. The parents made a collection towards a farewell gift.
- Mrs Broadhurst, from Rakaumangamanga, replaced Mrs Wilson in a relieving capacity.
- At the end of February a further £5 was spent to complete the School Committee grant from the previous year in the purchase of resource books. With this infant books and Cuisenaire number sets were purchased.
- After a months service Mrs Broadhurst moved on to take up a position in Hamilton. She took a real interest in the school and commenced Cuisenaire work in arithmetic. She strove to maintain standards in the basic subjects, particularly as a succession of relieving teachers could result in a falling off of standards.
- Mrs Walker gave three days service in the Infant Room pending the appointment of Miss J. A. Lumsden as relieving assistant. Mrs Walker stayed on to provide the continuity in the Junior classes for a week.

March

- Miss Lumsden started on March 6th with only the Primers while the Standard 1 students were moved into the senior building, leaving eleven primers in the Infant Room.
- On the 7th the spectacle of the court, drive and pathway being tar-sealed was completed after being started by the contractors on the 5th. Two layers of metal were laid down of 1/8 inch and 1/16 inch before cold seal was applied over the top. The drive was not fully sealed.

- Wattles, barbary and blackberry bushes were bulldozed clear of the east fence courtesy of Mr Fisher and a 'dozer from Downer's on the 12th. The Committee had planned to convert this into a dry grass area, with drainage being more rapid on this higher part of the hill. Mr Grut and Mr Yates along with Mr Walker repaired the east fence temporarily as it was planned to move it back later to include the new piece of ground.
- The school committee found that the 'milk in schools' scheme was justified based on the data received from the parents.

The following day all the pupils were taken by Mrs Valentine in Holland's truck to the woolshed to see the shearing. Mr John Holland had shown a real interest in the school and the children and he made the visit well worthwhile, answering questions and explaining all aspects of shearing.

A flag pole arrived from the Education Board on March 14th.

Miss Lumsden terminated her position as relieving assistant on Friday the 24th of March to be replaced by Mrs Marion Bogie the following Monday. Arriving on the same day as Mrs Bogie was the new Bell & Howell 16mm projector from Snapshot Ltd, Hamilton (purchased under subsidy by the PTA).

April

In early April a new iron roof was put on the 'prefab', replacing the unsatisfactory aluminium one.

Arriving on the same day as Mrs Bogie was the new Bell & Howell 16mm projector from Snapshot Ltd, Hamilton (purchased under subsidy by the PTA).

At a householder's meeting on April 12th the following were elected on to the School Committee:

Mr J. Fisher (Chairman),
Mr B. Grut (Secretary),
Mr G. White,
Mr R. Yates and Mrs P. Valentine.

There were only five nominations at the poorly attended meeting.

The newly purchased film projector, subsidised by a grant of 25 pounds from the Mines Amenities Board, was shown off at the April PTA meeting with three films being shown to a good crowd. The opportunity was taken to make a presentation to Mrs Wilson and to express thanks for her two very valuable years of service with the Junior school.

May

- On the 2nd of May a school flag was received from the Education Board and eight days later Messrs Grut, Yates and Walker set the new flag pole in a concrete base and poured cement around the strainer posts at the main gates. The gates were reset and a stop set on the ground in cement.
- Resolved by the Committee that cocoa be supplied to the children during the winter months.

July

- Messrs Grut and Yates made a new set of covers for the sandpit, while a wormery and paper cups were received from Mr Gore, the Nature Study specialist. Also during July two new hand forks and four new hand trowels were received from the Board to supplement the gardening tools.

August

- On August 15th the school sports trip to Pukekapia (by private cars) resulted in Kimihia winning the rugby 21-0 and losing the basketball 2-9.
- Water from the new spouting on the infants room was found to be streaming under the building and needed to be corrected.

September

- With the new projector needing some security and protection a cabinet was made by Mr B. Grut and set up in the classroom for use. The next day (September 11) the Annual general Meeting of the PTA saw the following elected: Mr Walker (chairman), Mrs Lewis, Mrs Castles, Mrs Cope, Mr Valentine, Mr Drayton, Mr Yates and Mr Holland.
- Five small shrubs, previously planted amongst the Lawsoniana hedge and having been wrenched in May, were transplanted to more suitable positions on 12th
- An end of term two concert of plays, poems and songs proved of a higher standard than 1960, earning favourable comments, especially of the plays and verse speaking.
- On 17th September a "Pop-pup" sports day was held. The rugby match between fathers (Pops) and sons (Pups) resulted in a 15-12 win to the sons and was refereed by Ivan Foster. The basketball match was not possible due to the small number of girls so several games of Padder Tennis were played instead, the girls proving themselves superior.

October

- Something was done about the junior drinking fountain that splashed its water over the feet of the drinkers, with a pipe being set in place by Mr Fisher.
- The Annual Calf Club Day was held with seven quality calves being entered by Brian Grut, Charles Lewis, Kelvin Yates, David Lewis, Ann Valentine, Kevin Fisher and Jimmy Yates.

- A game of softball v Pukemiro in the afternoon of the flower show produced and 8-5 win to the Kimihia girls and a 5-4 win to the Kimihia boys. The day was closed off with afternoon tea and a parents/pupils softball match.
- On the 11th the Public Health Nurse and Mrs Shaw inspected Form 2 and spoke to the Infant Room on swimming.
- Two outside seating forms were received from the Education Board and Mr Salmon paid his final visit to the school for the year.
- Mr Chandler, head of the Social Studies department at Huntly College, observed for the morning. He showed particular interest in self-government by the pupils.
- The Progressive Society of Huntly sent Santa Claus to the school to distribute sweets on the morning of the 17th. In the afternoon two softball teams travelled to Rotowaro school to play in a Tournament which included Pukemiro,
- Rotongaro and Rotowaro. Transport was provided by Mr Valentine, Mr Yates, Mrs Ashby, Mrs Jones, H. Tama and Mr White.
- On the 16th a School Concert and Fancy Dress was held in the St John Ambulance Hall in Hakanoa Street in the evening. Also that evening was the Christmas Tree and sweets, lollies, ice-cream and presents were provided by the Committee. A large crowd in attendance proved that the school building is unable to cope with these numbers. A farewell to Form 2 and the Head teacher Mr Burney was held that same evening.
- The school closed for Christmas on the 18th with Mr Burney terminating his appointment at the end of an enjoyable tenure.

Inventive hair styles of 1964

The two staff members (Marion Bogie seated) and Mick Mather at the beginning of the lunch-hour, where the children were required to stay seated until they had consumed their lunch and were 'released' by the teacher.

The sign-written "Kimihia School" on the west wall of the schoolroom was a recent addition as was the sand-pit near the road fence-line.

A staff-room was soon to be an addition when the school expanded to three rooms and was to be sited in the shadow of the school building.

The headmaster's residence is just visible bottom left and shows the garage roof.

The iconic school tree is just out of shot to the lower left.

The boys' toilet can be seen below the tall tree in the centre of this shot with the girls' toilet hidden by the trees immediately to the right.

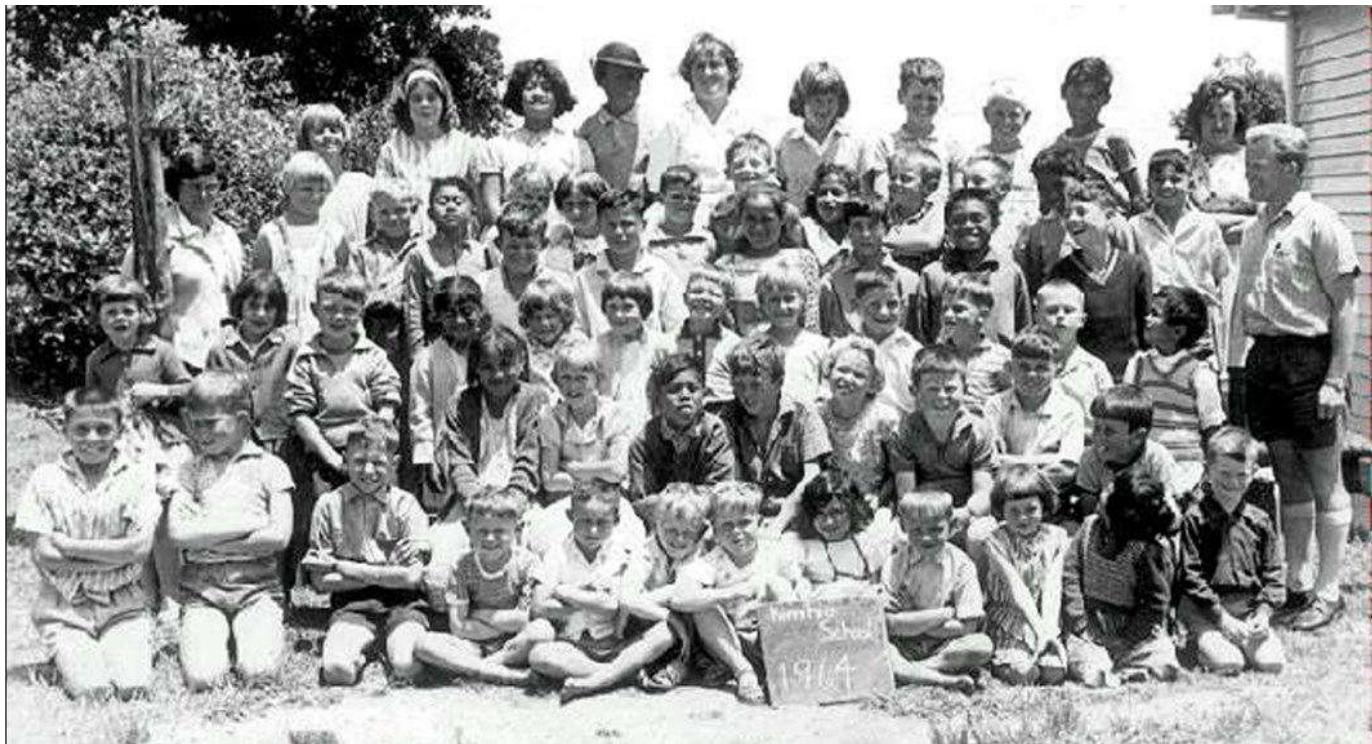

The milk box at the main gates (by the passing truck) held the daily ration of half-pint milk bottles.

The roof of the much-used shelter shed can be seen to the right of the entrance gate tree. Added on to the shelter shed was a bicycle shelter, An equipment room and a coal room.

The old house to the top rear sat on land that was, until the mid-50's, mined for coal as the seam sloped up from the lake and was almost exposed on the crest of the hill adjacent to the school property.

The house at the top right is thought to be that of the Bredesen family.

Fathers v Sons football match.

A father was expected to 'fall over' once an opponent had wrapped their arms around him.

The games inevitably ended in draws or close victories to the sons. The mothers played the daughters at basketball (netball).

The canal shown running across between the village and the mine maintenance area was the route of the original railway line out to the underground mine established in the 1890s. In the early 1950s, as the opencast areas were extended to the west, the rails were realigned to the north (shown) and the old rail bed was deepened to act as a drainage canal. This was necessary as the mine pit provided a major obstacle to the natural drainage of the area south of the lake into the Waikato River away to the west.

- The Christmas and End-of-Year social was held in the St John's Ambulance Hall on Wednesday 15th. The programme included singing games, plays, physed displays, songs with actions along with free ice-creams and sweets for the children.

- The school year ended on Friday 17th at 2pm.

The canal shown running across between the village and the mine maintenance area was the route of the original railway line out to the underground mine established in the 1890s. In the early 1950s, as the opencast areas were extended to the west, the rails were realigned to the north (shown) and the old rail bed was deepened to act as a drainage canal. This was necessary as the mine pit provided a major obstacle to the natural drainage of the area south of the lake into the Waikato River away to the west.

Teachers: Mr Mick Mather, Mr Sandy MacDonald & Mrs Marion Bogie

February

- The school opened with a roll of 76. The staff comprised Marion Bogie (infants), A. D. (Sandy) MacDonald (P3-S2) and R. Mather (S3-F2). Mr A. D. MacDonald's appointment is of special interest as he is a Kimihia ex-pupil - his schooling of course being in the sole-charge days.
- School swimming instruction was commenced at the Huntly baths between 10 and 11 am daily with transport by Simpson's bus. The response from parents was good with the children thoroughly enjoying their instruction and their progress was most gratifying. The infants made rapid progress.

March

- Thirty-eight children travelled by cars to the Founders Theatre in Hamilton to see the NZ Ballet presentation of character dances from Petrouchka as well as the final act from Sleeping Beauty. Admission was 2/6.
- Miss Jocelyn Ross, the specialist visiting teacher of the deaf from Hamilton attended the PTA meeting to give an account of her work to an attendance of 12.

- The school competed in the inter-school athletics at the Huntly Domain. Peter Hiki was first in the senior boys high jump (4' 4") and Carolyn Thompson was first in the senior girls shot put.

April

- The seniors travelled to Ohinewai for softball matches against both Ohinewai and Waiterimu schools on Thursday 21st. The children played very well in this non-competitive fixture. This was the second year that the boys team were able to maintain a top side, defeating all-comers except for an unexpected loss to Huntly West during the year. The team was made up of Peter Hiki (pitcher), Jimmy Yates (catcher), Murray Jones (1st base), Wayne Clark (2nd base), Graham Ashby (3rd base), Clive Ashby (short stop), Joshua Davis (outfield), William Watene (outfield) and Russell Quigley (outfield).
- The cross-country run for boys was held at Rakaumanga on 29th. The Kimihia boys had trained well during their dinner hours. Placegetters were: Seniors - Wayne Clarke 3rd, Jimmy Yates 12th, Wally Giles 18th. Intermediates - Clive Ashby 6th, Kahi Kirkwood 23rd, Ian Bogie 30th, William Watene 40th. Juniors - Robert Thompson 9th, Stuart Quigley 10th, Euan Nicholson 25th, Dean Carroll 31st, Kere Tumai 39th.
- On Tuesday 26th the PTA listened to an interesting account of teaching experiences in Samoa given by Mr K. Berryman, the Advising Teacher for Rural Schools. At this same meeting the PTA approved the purchase of £33 worth of books for the school. A bottle drive four days later raised £28.

May

- On Thursday 26th a public meeting was held in the school to discuss the building of baths at the new Kimihia school. There were 30 present and it was decided to go ahead and endeavour to raise the money for the project. Elected to the Baths Committee were Ron Holland (chairman), B. Grut (secretary), I. Quigley, E. Jones, R. Yates, G. White, J. Rakels, R. Mather, J. Chandler, J. Martin-Smith and F. Forrest.

June

- Rugby and Basketball were the activities at the Huntly Districts Field Day in which Kimihia fielded one complete 10-aside rugby team in the 6 stone competition, in which they were unbeaten.
- Collectors called on homes in the area for donations towards the baths project. £140 was raised.

July

- Mr Miller, a Gordon & Gotch salesman, spoke at the PTA meeting.

August

- On the 16th the PTA held a film evening where two humorous films were shown followed by two films from the Japanese Embassy.
- During the August holidays the ladies from the baths committee held a most successful day at Garden Place in Huntly. Their 'opportunity shop' earned £95. The response from all ladies in the district with donations of sewing, cooking and second-hand clothing was excellent. On the same day (Friday 26th) the men from the baths committee conducted a 'pig in the barrow' raffle which netted £60 profit.

September

- A bottle drive raised £32 for the baths fund. Involved were Ron Holland, G. White, R. Forrest, N. Burdes, G. Chandler, A. MacDonald and R. Mather.
- On Thursday 29th a public meeting was held at the Kimihia school at 7:30pm to report on fund-raising activities to date, provide a financial statement and to discuss proposals for further fund-raising activities.

November

- Sixty-four children attended a presentation of the play 'The Hunters and the Henwife' by the Southern Comedy Players held in the Huntly Town Hall. Mrs M. Bogie was in attendance. Mr A. MacDonald took the softball team to Huntly west School to play.
- On the 29th the Kimihia School Flower Show and Gala Day was held despite the unsuitable weather. Much of the programme had to be rearranged, but the children thoroughly enjoyed the day and, whilst attendance was not as good as expected on a fine day, the profit from the sales and raffles realised £45. The children were congratulated on the way they conducted themselves despite the pouring rain, and for making a success of a very difficult day.. It was a special day, being the last public day at the Kimihia School.

December

- On the 3rd another bottle drive was held in the Kimihia area raising £19. Helpers were R. Holland, G. White, N. Burdes, G. Chandler and R. Mather.
- An excellent muster of helpers attended to repolish furniture to be transferred to the new Kimihia School. These were R. Holland, B. Grut, D. Reid, A. Leech, I. Foster, G. White, R. Darke, J. Nash, R. Nicholson, D. Hart, I. Quigley, E. Jones, D. Bogie, N. Burdes and L. Holland. This project added £67 to the baths fund.
- On December 14th at 7:30 in the evening a large crowd attended the school's final function for the year in the St John Ambulance Hall. Items presented by the school children were well received by parents and as special treats we had a magician's act by Mr R. Irving and a presentation of slides of 'yesteryear' by Mr Drayton. The slides showing events of previous years were most appropriate, this being the final function of Kimihia School.
- Presentations on behalf of the school children and the School Committee were made by Miss Sheryl Grut of Form 1 and Mr Ron Holland (chairman) to Mr & Mrs R. Mather. These gifts provided treasured memories for the Mathers of two very happy years at Kimihia School.

• School closed at 2pm on Friday the 10th, being the final day of the old school, it was quite an occasion. The school was well-equipped and when this was transferred to the new school it would ensure an excellent start for the new Kimihia School in February 1967.

Head Teacher, 16.12.66*

Up until the closure at the end of 1966 the school had been used for the past 70 years as the centre of district affairs from kitchen evening to political meetings, as the area had no hall.

In 1966 a new Kimihia School was started off Russell Road in Tamihana Avenue and a new bin was built at the mine where the coal train now only visited once a week. The Waikato Times reported on 15th March 1966:

"A new primary school at Kimihia, Huntly, is due to be opened either in the third term of this year or at the beginning of next.

"Completion date of the construction contract is set at October 23, and it is most likely the school will be opened next year.

"With the opening of the new school the present Kimihia School will be closed.

"Sixty children attend the present Kimihia school, and they will all attend the new school.

"The new school, which will cost £38,500, will have six classrooms, a dental room, games room and administration block.

"Some of the building will be completed in Huntly brick veneer, with the rest being finished in timber. Six teachers will be teaching at the school, which will have a capacity for 230 children.

"It is expected that 120 to 130 children will be drawn from the Huntly primary school to attend the new school.

"The site was developed by local contractor Mr L. Masson, at a cost of £4500, and the building will be completed by John Fredrickson, another local contractor."

The old school (now three-teacher) closed at the end of 1966 and the 90 children were relocated to the new school closer into Huntly with Principal Mick Mather easing the transition by handing over to the new Principal John Lloyd for the 1967 year.

On the 14th of December 1966 the pupils put on what was to be their last end-of-year concert for the parents at the 'old school' and the single-sheet programme is shown on page 189.

On May 2nd 1967 the public were informed of the fate of the grand old classroom in a Waikato Times article:

The historic Kimihia School may be moved from its present site to be used for a library at Melville School.

"Although we much applaud the Huntly Jaycees' desire to convert the building into a monument or museum to the Kimihia district, the education of our children must take precedence." Mr K. C. M. Cockerill, general manager of the South Auckland Education Board, Hamilton, told The Times.

"For some years now, no libraries have been built at primary schools. The board has been trying to get the Government to change its policy on this for some time, but without success.

"So in the meantime we are using any room not suitable as a classroom for this purpose. We were delighted to see at Broadlands School near Rotorua where the old school block of 350-400 sq. ft was shifted and fitted with shelves and other library fittings by the local P.T.A. Now the board is maintaining the building.

"The same thing is possible at Melville. Mr Dickie, the headmaster, noticed the old Kimihia building, and realised that it would be ideal for this purpose.

"The P.T.A. has been asked to meet the cost of carrying the building and setting it up as a library. It will be ideal, as it is too small for use as an ordinary classroom."

Library work was becoming an important subject, Mr Cockerill said, as library work of all kinds was becoming more a part of modern school procedure. The board agreed that Kimihia school would not be put up for auction, as is the normal procedure.

"The board is wholeheartedly behind the move," he said.

"The project will be completed at no cost to the taxpayer, and the board will continue to maintain the building on completion of the work."

Mr P. Leather, a Huntly Jaycee, said he had hoped the old school would become a local monument and museum.

"It was built in 1897 at a cost of £190, and four generations of the earlier families have passed through it," he said. "Since the time when Kimihia was a coalmining town with farming as one of the sidelines, the school has been used as a centre for district affairs in the absence of a local hall. It has now been vacant since the beginning of the year, when the new school was occupied."

Teacher Marion Bogey's Junior class pupils outside their room in the early 1960s.

The Schoolroom

Few photos were available of the interior of the original schoolroom. The photos on these pages are from the historic school located at Hamilton's Mystery Creek Village. In most instances the building is similar. The only change to be observed is that the wall with three windows in these photos had only two windows in the original building at Kimihia, with no upper window.

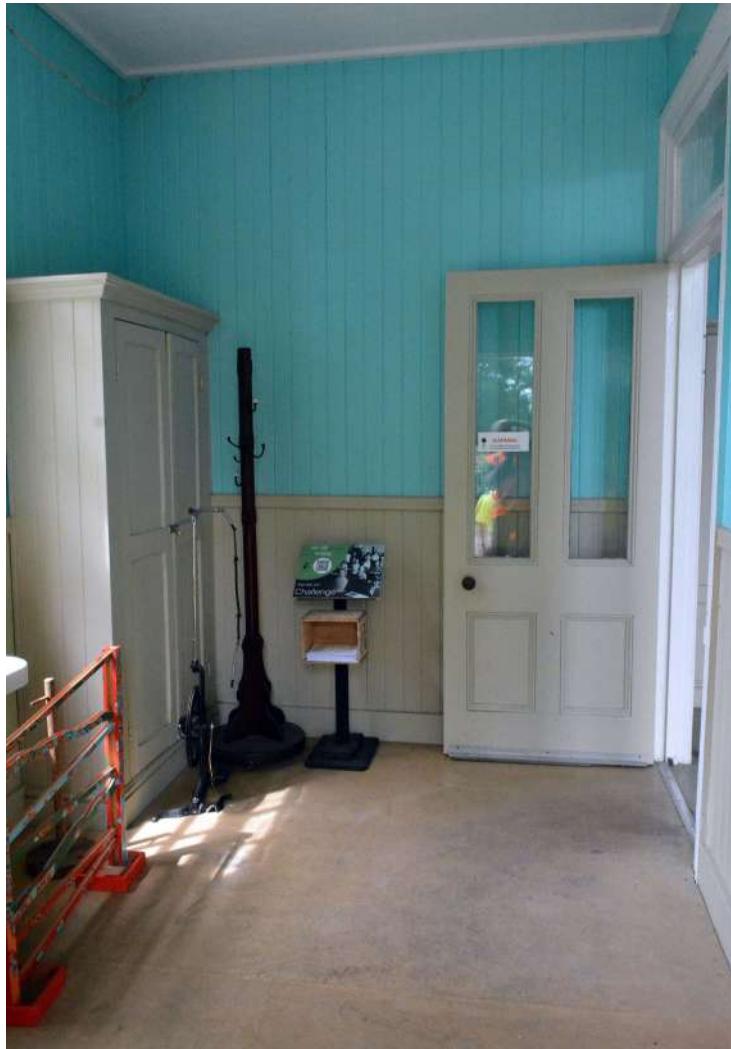

This junction between the two walls was the site of the rain-water tank. Toilets on the rise above the school were “long drops”, regularly emptied by a parent volunteer.

Below the entry-room window were two handbasins for use by the pupils. There was no hot-water source, making winter washing a chore.

The Middle School and Seniors teaching area.

Two views of the “Foyer” where bags were hung and cupboards used to store class materials.

The walls were not clad (as shown here) and the three windows facing East were, in the original building, only two. This was the “Primers’ Corner” and did not include an exit door.

In the photo above the Kimihia stove was positioned more to the right, between the blackboard and the entry door. It was used to heat the room in winter as well as the daily free milk supply to make cocoa. Coal was supplied by the opencast mine just down the hill from the school. In summer the milk, delivered into a roadside box, was heated by the morning sun and was less than enjoyable!

The left side of the room was the Primer's area. The foyer (through the door) was where bags and coats were hung and cupboards used to store teaching materials. A handbasin was also fixed to the inner wall below the window.

In the '60s a prefabricated building was added to cater for the Junior classes, later to be increased with another pre-fab' for Middle School pupils.

The school was closed at the end of the 1966 year and the new school on Tamihana Avenue (off Russell Road, Huntly) was opened.

Efforts were made with the Education Department to have the original building moved onto the new school site as an historical and useable asset. However the Education Department had assigned the building to be transported to the Melville Primary School and fitted out as a Library.

The old building was located at the front of the Melville Primary and was totally unrecognizable as the structure it once was. It has now been totally replaced with a more updated and purposeful structure.

Above: Below the two western-facing windows was situated a garden, in which flowers and vegetables were grown and tended to by the pupils.
